Inquiring Reporter

Are Salem's recreational facilities and cultural programs adequate? News Reporter Carol Croft asked this question of the following people this week. Here are their answers:

Richard Strain, 891 Trimble St., co-owner of Strain's Clothing Store: "I think they're fairly adequate but they could be enlarged. It would be advantageous to everyone if they were. I don't think you can ever have too many projects. We should never stop at what we have."

Ray Pearce, 1617 E. State St., funeral director, Arbaugh Pearce Funeral Home: "I think these facilities are as good as, or better than the average town of our size. Any future expansion should be under the supervision of a Planning Commission."

Dianna Moffett, 849 E. 5th St., president of the Girls Athletic Association at Salem Senior High School: "I don't think there are enough but I don't think there are enough interested persons to support one. It would be good to have an indoor swimming pool or roller skating rink."

Mrs. Tom Kneifel, 375 Rea Dr., housewife: "I think the facilities are about average for a town this size, with one exception. It's distressing that we don't have a truly commendable auditorium."

Mrs. Carl Smith, 879 E. School St., administrative secretary, Salem Camp Fire Girls: "I believe recreational facilities in Salem are as good and perhaps better than those offered in the average small community, but a shortage of qualified adult volunteer workers creates a problem. Salem's nationality groups ought to share their talents with other community organizations."

Mrs. Ralph Carnahan, 561 E. 8th St., receptionist, Salem Central Clinic: "I certainly do. We could use an indoor pool but anyone knows Salem is sports-minded. All we need is time to take advantage of the many cultural opportunities. The service clubs and church groups offer wonderful activities."

Frank Huber, 1542 N. Lincoln Ave., manager, Huber Automotive Parts: "Although Salem compares favorably with other towns of similar size, I believe that there are facilities which we need. I would like to see a community auditorium, an indoor swimming pool and handball courts. We need a project to fill the gap left by the close of the Town Hall series."

Fred Cope, 575 N. Howard Ave., director of athletics, Salem Senior High School: "I do not think they are adequate in any town. We do very well for the size of our community and we certainly are conscious of the need for more cultural and recreational development but it takes time, money and interest. As is shown by past Town Hall programs and the marvelous Quaker City Band, we have the foundations for betterment."

4 Persons Hurt In Auto Crash

Wellsville Driver Cited After Mishap

Excessive speed was blamed for a head-on collision on Rt. 45, two miles south of Salem, at 6 p.m. Friday which sent four persons to Salem Central Clinic with multiple injuries.

Injured in the mishap were: Charles Roger Burrows, 33, of Wellsville, driver of one car, laceration of right eye, abrasions of the chin and possible concussion.

Christy Topalu, 31, of Pittsburgh, driver of the second vehicle, laceration of nose and scalp, sprained back and laceration of knee and lip.

Topalu's wife, Nancy Lou, 26, laceration of forehead, neck and eye, possible fractured nose and abrasions of both legs.

The Topalus' daughter, Tammy Sue, 6, laceration of scalp, contusions and abrasions of the left leg and abrasions of the right hand and hip.

Burrows and Mrs. Topalu are listed in fair condition, the other two were treated and released. Theodore Christy and Thomas Paul, twin two-year-old sons of the Topalus' escaped injury.

The Lisbon barracks of the state highway patrol said Burrows was traveling south at a high rate of speed and lost control of his car in a curve. He went off the right side of the road, swerved back onto the highway, careened left of center and struck Topalu's vehicle.

Burrows was cited for driving too fast for the conditions of the road.

SANTA'S HELPER SAYS

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Mrs. James Garrod, RD 1 Benton Rd., broker's assistant, Butler-Wick and Co.: "Under the subject of recreational facilities, I would like to see improvements made on ones already available. The ice skating area at Memorial Park needs to be scraped more thoroughly during winter months. Construction of a roller skating rink would be a definite asset. Regarding Salem's cultural facilities, our Community Concerts offer much along these lines."

Dr. Lloyd C. McIlvaine, 866 N. Ellsworth Ave.: "We in Salem have access to an amazing number of educational facilities with the new high school, public and parochial elementary schools, technical school and Kent State Extension. Entertainment is just as diversified and thorough. Salem, being as versatile and progressive as it is, also has the ability to accommodate itself with the advent of new industry."

JFK Murder Probers Seek Broad Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The probers of President Kennedy's assassination are asking Congress for extraordinary powers to force testimony from any reluctant witnesses and to grant immunity from prosecution.

The sweeping resolution was introduced in the Senate late Friday by Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., members of the presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Texas Calls Off Inquiry

It came almost simultaneously with announcement that Texas has called off its state court of inquiry at Warren's suggestion to avoid interference with the high-level investigation ordered by President Johnson.

Nursing Home Bids Sought

County Gets Okay On Hospital Annex

Columbiana County commissioners will open bids Jan. 10 for construction of a 50 - bed nursing home at the county infirmary, Walter A. Hunston, president of the board of commissioners, announced today.

Hunston said the county will begin advertising for bids immediately following receipt yesterday of federal and state permission to proceed with the project.

Columbiana County commissioners took steps last April to secure federal funds for the $400,000 unit to be constructed just south of the existing hospital.

Architect Robert Beatty of East Liverpool and Hunston filed the application for funds with the Federal Auxiliary Works Program Agency in Columbus. Drawings of the annex were delivered to the agency in May.

Announcement of authorization of a $200,000 federal grant for construction of the nursing home was made Aug. 23 by Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District.

The funds for the hospital addition are part of the grants made available to hospital projects through the Hill - Burton Act.

Original estimates indicated $346,000 would be allocated to construction of the annex, $34,000 for equipment and $20,000 for architect fees. However the

Salem Man, 2 Friends Killed In Auto Mishap

Thompson Receives Life In Prison for Wife's Murder

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—T. Eugene Thompson, 36, was convicted Friday of arranging the brutal slaying of his wife, Carol, 34, after one of Minnesota's most sensational murder trials. He was immediately sentenced to life imprisonment.

A six-man, six-woman jury took over a day to convict the dapper attorney of first-degree murder nine months to the day after his wife was fatally beaten and stabbed in their fashionable home in St. Paul.

The state contended Thompson hired the killer for love of another woman and for more than $1 million in insurance. Remained In Jail Today

The blond, crew-cut lawyer remained in jail today pending his transfer to the state prison at Stillwater to serve the life sentence imposed by Judge Rolf Fosseen. There is no capital punishment in Minnesota.

With good behavior, Thompson would be eligible for parole after 17½ years.

If his attorneys appeal — which they indicated likely — and if the predictably heavy bond is met, Thompson could go free pending a decision by the State Supreme Court. Prosecutor William Randall said he would recommend bond "substantially heavier" than the $100,000 under which Thompson was free during his trial.

The scene in the courtroom when the jury returned topped six weeks of steadily building emotion.

Clerk Frank Archambo took the sealed verdict from the foreman, Sidney C. Becker, 71. After handing it to Judge Fosseen, who read it without expression, Archambo read it aloud.

Thompson's Head Dropped When he came to the word "guilty," Thompson's head dropped.

As each juror was asked, a defense attorney Hyam Segell's request, if this was his or her true verdict, Thompson stared at the jurors.

The jury took seven ballots to arrive at a guilty verdict. It was reported first split about 50-50.

The jury believed the state's case that:

Thompson, father of four children and builder of a thriving St. Paul law practice, was moved to get his wife out of the way for love of his shapely ex-secretary, Jackie Olesen, with whom he admitted having an affair;

Thompson was motivated by money—the more than $1 million in insurance he took out on his wife, much of it in haste in the year before she was killed.

He arranged for the actual killing, a police character named Dick W. C. Anderson, to be admitted to the Thompson home by an unlocked door early the morning of March 6.

Gave Anderson Clear Track He gave Anderson a clear track by disposing of the Thompson pet dog;

He gave instructions via an intermediary, Norman Mastrian, for the killing to simulate a bathtub drowning;

By removing a bedroom telephone, he planned to lure Mrs. Thompson to her doom by a prearranged morning phone call after he had gone to work, forcing her to come downstairs where Anderson was to attack her;

The simulated drowning went awry when Anderson, fortified with liquor and pep pills, missed the kitchen rendezvous, stunned Mrs. Thompson in her bedroom, stripped her, and placed her in the bathtub, but let her slip away from him when she revived;

Pursued Into Bedroom Anderson pursued her into the bedroom and then downstairs, clubbing her with a pistol that wouldn't fire and then stabbing her with a kitchen knife, to leave her fatally wounded;

Thompson made a $2,500-payoff to Mastrian via another intermediary.

The jury did not believe defense counsel Segell's argument that:

The suspiciously large amount of cash found in Thompson's possession shortly after the killing was money he had kept to hedge against gambling on a trip to Las Vegas with Mrs. Thompson;

He had disposed of the family dog because it was not housebroken, and new carpeting had been installed;

The phone was removed to re-type one which Mrs. Thompson had wanted.

Vincent Taus Among Victims In Connecticut

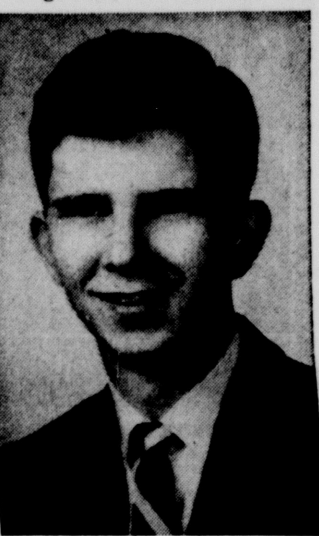

All Yale Students; Patrol Believes Driver Fell Asleep

Vincent V. Taus Jr., 21, of MC 1, Salem, and two other Yale University students were killed in a one-car accident this morning on the Connecticut Turnpike at Milford, Conn.

Connecticut state police identified the other two young men as Elton W. Peterson, 21, of Hopkins, Minn., and Gary W. Martin, 20, of Manhasset, N. Y.

All three were seniors and members of Timothy Dwight College, one of Yale's 12 undergraduate residential colleges.

Police said the men were returning from a visit to New

Vincent V. Taus Jr.

York City when the accident occurred. They said the car swerved into the center esplanade of the turnpike and smashed into a bridge abutment.

Authorities believe Martin, who was driving, fell asleep. The nature of the youths' fatal injuries was not ascertained.

The Salem youth was born here Sept. 20, 1942, a son of Vincent V. and Mildred Yeager Taus.

He graduated as an honor student from Salem High School in 1960 and was employed for a period in the editorial office of the Salem News. The victim was majoring in English at Yale.

Besides his father and mother he leaves a brother, David Lee at the home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yeager of Salem.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Stark Memorial.

Ohio Lawmakers Wind Up Session

By ART PARKS and PHIL GUNBY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's state lawmakers are home today, having wound up the work of their deferred session in five fast-moving days.

Leaders of the Senate and House return Tuesday for a so-called skeleton session to clean up some paperwork, but they'll have the legislative halls all to themselves.

After that, the 105th Ohio General Assembly will be considered adjourned sine die — "without a day" set for return.

If lawmakers come back into session during 1964, it will be because the governor calls them. And there's a pretty good chance he will, if a 500 million highway bond issue passes next May 5.

It was another bond issue, the $250 million capital improvements — higher education proposal which Ohio voters approved 32 days ago, which set the stage for this resumption of the regular 1963 lawmaking session.

Slightly more than $138.5 million of that Nov. 5 bond issue was committed by the legislators, as well as about $18.8 million from other funds, in an appropriations bill for higher education, needy school districts, conservation — recreation, maintenance of state buildings and other functions.

The House completed passage of that bill—which the uncharitable suggested might not be entirely free of the pork barrel politics of "you give me what I want for my district and I'll give you what you want for yours"—Friday (117-4) in a final day that saw several major bills passed.

After the last committee meeting of the session, a hurry-up afternoon affair, the House also completed passage (72-33) of a bill specifically stating that the chief of the state mines division can make regulations regarding oil and gas well drilling. A public hearing must be held on such regulations, however.

Ready For Budget Reform

President Johnson scarcely had time to get used to his White House office before the 1964-1965 budget was in his lap.

The late President Kennedy had been working on the new budget for months before his death. The Bureau of the Budget has nothing else to do but work on it year in and year out. More people altogether worry and work on the budget than on any other piece of federal business.

Yet, the effect of all this work and worry is a state of official and public confusion. The federal budget has become incomprehensible. Worse than that, it has become dangerously incomprehensible. Its distortion.

LIKE MANY other kinds of raw statistics, budget figures do not reflect population growth, for one thing, nor changing circumstances for another. Thus, it is possible to allege that an administration is wasteful because it is spending more money when, in truth, it may be spending less money in proportion to the total population and problems that have been growing more troublesome than a previous administration. The late President Kennedy had grown sensitive on this point.

Budget figures do not reflect limits, only estimates. Sometimes they don't even reflect whole estimates but only fractions of estimates. For this reason, the federal budget has ceased to be realistic. It is part of the paraphernalia of fiscal ledgerdom that keeps ordinary people from knowing what is being done with public money by extraordinary people who have learned how to assure a more affluent life for public servants.

Neither do the budget totals reveal how much money is shifted around from account to another and even shifted inside the same accounts. The budget says nothing about unexpended balances in accounts presumably empty. It is not, like a family budget, an estimate of actual spending but only a projection of fund manipulation. There is no way, consequently, for taxpayers to make meaningful comparisons with their own money-handling or the money-handling of companies and corporations.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is about to dive in over his depth in budgetary chaos, with a view to inviting the rest of us to get into the confusion with him next month when he ends his budget message to Congress.

There isn't an American, up to and including the new President, who wouldn't cheer a suggestion to reform budget-making in Washington, for the purpose of restoring popular confidence in the money-huffers whose operations now are on the order of $100 billion a year and still growing.

People duck the commercials on certain items to get a snack of items that aren't advertised.

Bob K. to Stay On

By VICTOR RIESEL

Robert Kennedy will stay on — for "the duration." That means at least until 1965 and perhaps longer.

Victor Riesel

He has much unfinished business. There is, for example, the matter which was interrupted by gunfire at high noon that Friday. The attorney general was in the midst of a two-day series of conferences with his special, anti-crime units. He had brought them in from all over the nation. His concentration was on Chicago. He had sent for his entire special staff in that city.

All day Thursday and early Friday he had listened to briefings from the Chicago unit as well as those from Los Angeles, Miami and New York. Everything had to be coordinated for the big push in '64.

On that Friday he decided to take a break for lunch. He asked Robert Morgenthau, U.S. attorney for the Southern District (Manhattan) and Morgenthau's aide, Silvio Mollo, highly trusted veteran chief of that district's criminal division to eat with him on the terrace of his Mc-

Lean, Virginia home.

They were about to impanel a special grand jury on labor racketeering and crime cartel gambling.

THEY WERE on the terrace when J. Edgar Hoover telephoned the report that the train of history had been derailed by two bullets.

But from now on it will be "history" as usual. "The war on the mob will continue—perhaps harder and rougher. A macabre footnote is the shadow of the mob cast on the fringe of the double killing.

Nor is Bob Kennedy going to overlook that other shadow — the red-tinted one.

Regardless of the conclusions of all reports and state and federal inquiries, he will probe this grimness for a long time.

The Communist apparatus inside the United States is part of his unfinished business. It is dramatic coincidence that just two weeks before his brother's assassination, allegedly committed by a self-professed Marxist, Bob Kennedy was in New York for a briefing on Soviet subversion and espionage.

Of the four hours he spent with the FBI specialists there, Kennedy devoted three to such activities as recent Soviet efforts to steal the secrets of our Strategic Air Command's electronic global alert system. The other hour was devoted to the Cosa Nostra.

LET NO ONE doubt that among Bob Kennedy's unfinished business is James Hoffa. Special Department of Justice units are now steadily working on every minute detail of the case they will present against the teamsters' chief in Nashville when the trial opens there on Jan. 6. Hoffa and others are charged with jury tampering.

Then will come the Chicago trial on charges of "fraudulent" obtaining more than $20 million worth of loans from the Central States Teamster Pension Fund. After that, the Justice Department will push the retrial of Hoffa on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley law to the tune of about a million dollars allegedly received from an employer.

Those who check with the White House will learn that President Johnson plans to give Kennedy a free hand in these prosecutions.

What will Bob Kennedy do when he feels finally that he can put some of these dossiers into a file marked "old business?" That depends on his relationship with President Johnson.

In cold political terms, they need each other. Bob Kennedy needs a national platform. Lyndon Johnson needs the network of political machines which Kennedy has been regearing and retooling for juggernaut drives in coming months. The two men will, therefore, work closely together.

IT'S EXPECTED that the attorney general will sit in on future "eyeball-to-eyeball" security conferences. His relationships with Central Intelligence Agency director, John McCone, White House military advisor, Maxwell Taylor and Defense Secretary McNamara are personal and intimate.

It was McCone who rushed out to Bob Kennedy's home that Friday. It was McNamara to whom Bob Kennedy sped shortly after hearing the news of his brother's killing.

Naturally during the coming year, or two, Bob Kennedy will search for a power base of his own. He cannot build that in private practice.

He must stay in government. He must run for office. In politics, as in all other contests for high stakes, it's all a matter of timing the big move. He'll take lots of time making his decision.

Alaskan Growth Rate

Herald Tribune News Service

ANCHORAGE, Alaska—A new seaplane, rather than a new car, is the mark of a successful man in Alaska, which was granted American statehood in 1959.

The economic growth rate of this state which has one-sixth of the land area of the United States, but less than half of 1 per cent of its population, has been lagging behind the rest of the country.

It seems now to be recovering from the slowdown that set in shortly after statehood was granted in 1959, and the brilliant promise of the future seems to be nearer fulfillment.

Alaskans, thinly spread along their magnificent Pacific coast and backed out of most of the interior by 15,000-foot snow peaks and glaciers, can take pride in their achievements compared with those of America's other mountain states.

Income Higher

Their average per capita income of some $2,700 a year is $250 above the national average and nearly $500 better than the Rocky Mountain average. Wages as well as prices are far ahead of the national average.

This year's achievements leave no doubt as to Alaska's future as a source of raw materials. The state already is producing more than 1 million tons a year of crude oil from the Kenai Peninsula, one of the few sizeable fields discovered in the United States in recent decades.

The discovery of a nearby field, in the waters of Cook Inlet, now has been confirmed. Large discoveries of natural gas are expected to find a market in Tokyo soon, the product being shipped direct by refrigerated tanker.

Iron Ore Found

As a by-product of the oil exploration activity, one of the world's largest iron ore deposits is believed to have been discovered.

The first auction of a coal lease has been held.

Some of the timber from the 130 million acres of possibly commercial forest are being sawed and pulped while some standing timber is to be offered for sale to Japanese and other mills.

A more readily available resource, Alaska's scenery, also is being brought on to the market. The state's first public borrowing was used to finance an improved ferry service through the fjords of the southeastern "Panhandle."

This has taken hundreds of miles off the drive from Seattle to the Anchorage-Fairbanks area, and allows the tourist to snooze peacefully for several days while his car sails with him.

Lacks Basic Industry

But in its present stage of development, the Achilles heel of the Alaskan economy is its lack of basic industry or agriculture—and of a working population adjusted to their needs.

Hitherto, government spending based largely on defense has canceled this weakness. Of total wage and salary income, more than half comes from federal military and civilian outlays and state spending. More than a third of this government sector is accounted for by military programs.

The recent trend toward more amicable relations with Soviet bloc countries, however, is causing Alaskans to question the durability of a recovery in which the defense effort still plays a large part.

The dangers of such a situation already had been underlined when, early in 1962, Nikita Khrushchev claimed Russia had perfected a missile that could get to America "the long way round" instead of across the polar regions.

National Conscience By Truman Twill

One loose end keeps dangling while we gather up the threads of our lives after the act of violence in Dallas.

Why do we still feel guilty about a thing we could not help?

Why do people in Dallas feel guilty, and why do so many people elsewhere look askance at Dallas?

If Lee Oswald actually was the presidential assassin, his warped, embittered life was not something we caused. His circumstances were no different from circumstances other Americans have found endurable, even helpful.

What, then, was the source of the stab of guilt that made us wince when we heard what had happened?

IN DALLAS, community leaders are urging the people to lift their chins and quit feeling ashamed.

In places far from Dallas, thoughtful people are writing things like a Wall Street Journal editorial wondering why there has been so much talk about contemporary America as rancor and hatred.

"The harping on hate is a disservice to the nation," says The Wall Street Journal, "for it makes it more difficult for the nonviolent majority to get on with their and the nation's business in a time of sorrow."

Getting on with the nation's business ..

What could be more important than business? Business must go on as usual, of course it must. And it will, if we can get rid of that loose end which keeps dangling.

All we know is, we feared the worst when President Kennedy was assassinated in a city and a state whose fierce hatred of one of his ideas had been only thinly concealed from the rest of the country.

All subsequent talk about guilt is repetition of that first fear. Millions of us thought the bitter rancor of the civil rights fight had spilled over in Dallas.

We still aren't sure it didn't, and with the assassin dead before his story was told we can't be sure.

The spill-over could have happened in Dallas. It did happen in Birmingham. It could have happened many places.

THAT'S THE loose end.

We cannot shift the guilt to one alleged assassin because too many potential assassins are lurking in the bushes.

We can believe the worst might be true because our common sense tells us what the truth might be. We are afraid our country may be starting something like France's shoot-out over Algeria.

The Wall Street Journal and business brushing that loose end out of our eye. Call it the national conscience, if it helps to clear up the matter.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Probably no man in the government of the United States is more familiar with the infiltration which the Communists are carrying on in this country than J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. When he makes a speech, therefore, on this activity, it may be inferred that something is going on under the surface to which public attention needs to be drawn.

David Lawrence

Mr. Hoover, in an address just delivered in connection with an achievement award given to him by the Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, described the Communist operations inside this country, and said:

"We are at war with communism and the sooner every red-blooded American realizes this the safer we will be. "Here in the United States, the cause of international communism is represented by the Communist party, U.S.A. — a cunning and defiant subversive conspiracy which is financed, directed and controlled by the Kremlin.

"Its membership consists today of a hard core of revolutionary fanatics who are knowingly and eagerly subservient to the dictates of Moscow. The Dupes, the Dissidents and the faint of heart have long since been purged from the party's ranks."

MR. HOOVER urged Negro leaders in the United States to beware of the attempts by the Communists to infiltrate the movement for civil rights and warned them that the Soviets have tried and still are trying to take a hand behind the scenes in the civil rights movement. He added:

"Today, the Communists are engaged in a vigorous campaign to divide and weaken America from within. Foremost in this campaign are the party's efforts to exploit misunderstandings and capitalize upon areas of dissension and unrest wherever they exist. "This is especially true in the intense civil rights movement, for America's 20 million Negroes and all others engaged in this struggle are a major target for Communist propaganda and subversion.

"It would be absurd to suggest that the aspirations of Negroes for equality are Communist inspired. This is demonstrably not true. What is demonstrable is that some individuals and groups exploit the tension for purposes not confined to the equality of human rights under the Constitution of the United States.

"The crusade should not become a vehicle for political radicalism or organized violence.

"Devotion to race must not supersede devotion to established institutions.

"It would be useful if responsible Negro leaders themselves could make it clear to all who follow them that their interest is solely in racial equality. . . .

"Legitimate civil rights organizations must remain constantly alert to attempts by the Communists to influence their actions, take over their programs and corrupt heirranks."

MR. HOOVER pointed out that "Communism feeds upon ignorance, prejudice and sickness of the mind and soul," and said that "the cause of communism is well served by the hatemongers, the lunatic fringe and other rabble who preach a doctrine of malice and intolerance toward their fellow man." He continued:

"These venomous fanatics, whether they are extremists of the left or the right, are carriers of a highly infectious disease. They clutter the streets—and the mails—with their slanderous obscenities, urging irresponsible teen-agers and unstable adults to acts of hate, terror and intimidation.

They have brought forth the bombs and ignited the flames that have killed decent Americans and even innocent children and destroyed churches and other temples of worship. They are a national disgrace.

"Invariably, these merchants of hate attempt to drape themselves in a cloak of patriotism but their real objective is to profiteer and capitalize upon ignorance, prejudice and bigotry while destroying the very ideals which they claim to uphold."

The FBI director said that "the fires of anti-Semitism continue to burn with fierce intensity in many areas of the world." He declared:

"Despite Communist claims of improved conditions for Jews under the Khrushchev regime, the opposite actually is true. Additional forms of suppression have been introduced."

Mr. Hoover said that the Communists cannot reach the great majority of American youth. But he warned that there are others who, though they are genuinely convinced that they would not fall for the Communist bait, might never know they were "hooked" until they almost unwittingly have become dupes of the Communists.

THE FBI tries to ferret out the Communists who infiltrate organizations of American citizens. While congressional committees can frequently expose Communist operations inside the United States, innocent members of these organizations generally are unaware of just who are or who are not party members and just who are being financed by the Communist partisans.

Mr. Hoover's speech is a significant pronouncement on a subject which has proven vexatious in the past and which probably will continue to be until American public opinion is able to learn more about the way Communists conduct their clandestine operations.

Finding the Way Which Do YOU Pursue?

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

The American is guaranteed the pursuit of happiness—but he is not assured the pursuit of pleasure.

Here is a woman desiring happiness with no concept of how to achieve it. So she kidnaps a baby to insure a strange marriage.

Or a man who decides that he must provide a satisfaction for all of his covetous desires and embezzles his employer's funds.

Those are but two of the obvious illustrations of the subtle temptations luring too many persons into appetite satisfaction instead of soul fulfillment.

THIS CAUSED Paul Tillich to remind us that "the ordinary human being is able to sacrifice pleasure and to take pain upon himself for a cause, for somebody or something he loves and deems worthy of pain or sacrifice. He can disregard both pain and pleasure because he is directed not toward his pleasure but toward the thing he loves and with which he wants to unite."

HAPPINESS can stand a large amount of pain and a lack of pleasure. But happiness cannot stand a lack of joy. For joy is the expression of our central fulfillment.

Translating this into the practical problems of contemporary society, the question reads:

Can the fender-to-fender rush through the streets, creating increasing metropolitan problems in the pursuit of pleasure (get out of my way because this is what I want to do) become the pursuit of happiness (transportation is an essential tool of society)?

Can the protection of crime or the toleration of immorality as the pursuit of pleasure (either complacency or personal profit), be overcome by the pursuit of happiness (a concern for personal and community righteousness)?

THESE ARE interesting and challenging days demanding that we demonstrate our ability to administer both possessions and power. It is a time for the world and ourselves to know that it is happiness which we pursue—not pleasure.

Joy does not preclude pleasure. But pleasure comes only when man has pursued the larger goals of happiness. So Jesus could do the act of a servant and say:

"For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you . . . if ye know things, happy are ye if ye do them."

This is the pursuit of happiness.

Inquiring Reporter

Are Salem's recreational facilities and cultural programs adequate? News Reporter Carol Croft asked this question of the following people this week. Here are their answers:

Richard Strain, 891 Trimble St., co-owner of Strain's Clothing Store: "I think they're fairly adequate but they could be enlarged. It would be advantageous to everyone if they were. I don't think you can ever have too many projects. We should never stop at what we have."

Ray Pearce, 1617 E. State St., funeral director, Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home: "I think these facilities are as good as, or better than the average town of our size. Any future expansion should be under the supervision of a Planning Commission."

Dianna Moffett, 849 E. 5th St., president of the Girls Athletic Association at Salem Senior High School: "I don't think there are enough but I don't think there are enough interested persons to support one. It would be good to have an indoor swimming pool or roller skating rink."

Mrs. Tom Kneifel, 375 Rea Dr., housewife: "I think the facilities are about average for a town this size, with one exception. It's distressing that we don't have a truly commendable auditorium."

Mrs. Carl Smith, 879 E. School St., administrative secretary, Salem Camp Fire Girls: "I believe recreational facilities in Salem are as good and perhaps better than those offered in the average small community, but a shortage of qualified adult volunteer workers creates a problem. Salem's nationality groups ought to share their talents with other community organizations."

Mrs. Ralph Carnahan, 561 E. 8th St., receptionist, Salem Central Clinic: "I certainly do. We could use an indoor pool but anyone knows Salem is sports-minded. All we need is time to take advantage of the many cultural opportunities. The service clubs and church groups offer wonderful activities."

Frank Huber, 1542 N. Lincoln Ave., manager, Huber Automotive Parts: "Although Salem compares favorably with other towns of similar size, I believe that there are facilities which we need. I would like to see a community auditorium, an indoor swimming pool and handball courts. We need a project to fill the gap left by the close of the Town Hall series."

Fred Cope, 575 N. Howard Ave., director of athletics, Salem Senior High School: "I do not think they are adequate in any town. We do very well for the size of our community and we certainly are conscious of the need for more cultural and recreational development but it takes time, money and interest. As is shown by past Town Hall programs and the marvelous Quaker City Band, we have the foundations for betterment."

4 Persons Hurt In Auto Crash

Wellsville Driver Cited After Mishap

Excessive speed was blamed for a head-on collision on Rt. 45, two miles south of Salem, at 6 p.m. Friday which sent four persons to Salem Central Clinic with multiple injuries.

Injured in the mishap were: Charles Roger Burrows, 33, of Wellsville, driver of one car, laceration of right eye, abrasions of the chin and possible concussion.

Christy Topalu, 31, of Pittsburgh, driver of the second vehicle, laceration of nose and scalp, sprained back and laceration of knee and lip.

Topalu's wife, Nancy Lou, 26, laceration of forehead, neck and eye, possible fractured nose and abrasions of both legs.

The Topalus' daughter, Tammy Sue, 6, laceration of scalp, contusions and abrasions of the left leg and abrasions of the right hand and hip.

Burrows and Mrs. Topalu are listed in fair condition, the other two were treated and released. Theodore Christy and Thomas Paul, twin two-year-old sons of the Topalus' escaped injury.

The Lisbon barracks of the state highway patrol said Burrows was traveling south at a high rate of speed and lost control of his car in a curve. He went off the right side of the road, swerved back onto the highway, careened left of center and struck Topalu's vehicle.

Burrows was cited for driving too fast for the conditions of the road.

Mrs. James Garrod, RD 1 Benton Rd., broker's assistant, Butler-Wick and Co.: "Under the subject of recreational facilities, I would like to see improvements made on ones already available. The ice skating area at Memorial Park needs to be scraped more thoroughly during winter months. Construction of a roller skating rink would be a definite asset. Regarding Salem's cultural facilities, our Community Concerts offer much along these lines."

Dr. Lloyd C. Mellvaine, 866 N. Ellsworth Ave.: "We in Salem have access to an amazing number of educational facilities with the new high school, public and parochial elementary schools, technical school and Kent State Extension. Entertainment is just as diversified and thorough. Salem, being as versatile and progressive as it is, also has the ability to accommodate itself with the advent of new industry."

JFK Murder Probers Seek Broad Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The probers of President Kennedy's assassination are asking Congress for extraordinary powers to force testimony from any reluctant witnesses and to grant immunity from prosecution.

The sweeping resolution was introduced in the Senate late Friday by Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., members of the presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Texas Calls Off Inquiry

It came almost simultaneously with announcement that Texas has called off its state court of inquiry at Warren's suggestion to avoid interference with the high-level investigation ordered by President Johnson.

Files and evidence amassed by Texas state and city authorities already are in the hand of the FBI, he said.

So broad are the immunity clauses in the Senate resolution offered by Russell and Cooper that some Capitol observers predicted it would undergo close scrutiny and possibly some modification. A less drastic bill, providing full subpoena powers without the immunity provisions, already had been introduced by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

Nursing Home Bids Sought

County Gets Okay On Hospital Annex

Columbiana County commissioners will open bids Jan. 10 for construction of a 50 - bed nursing home at the county infirmary, Walter A. Hunston, president of the board of commissioners, announced today.

Hunston said the county will begin advertising for bids immediately following receipt yesterday of federal and state permission to proceed with the project.

Columbiana County commissioners took steps last April to secure federal funds for the $400,000 unit to be constructed just south of the existing hospital.

Architect Robert Beatty of East Liverpool and Hunston filed the application for funds with the Federal Auxiliary Works Program Agency in Columbus. Drawings of the annex were delivered to the agency in May.

Announcement of authorization of a $200,000 federal grant for construction of the nursing home was made Aug. 28 by Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District.

The funds for the hospital addition are part of the grants made available to hospital projects through the Hill - Burton Act.

Original estimates indicated $346,000 would be allocated to construction of the annex, $34,000 for equipment and $20,000 for architect fees. However the

Salem Man, 2 Friends Killed In Auto Mishap

Thompson Receives Life In Prison for Wife's Murder

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—T. Eugene Thompson, 36, was convicted Friday of arranging the brutal slaying of his wife, Carol, 34, after one of Minnesota's most sensational murder trials. He was immediately sentenced to life imprisonment.

A six-man, six-woman jury took over a day to convict the dapper attorney of first-degree murder nine months to the day after his wife was fatally beaten and stabbed in their fashionable home in St. Paul.

The state contended Thompson hired the killer for love of another woman and for more than $1 million in insurance. Remained in Jail Today

The blond, crew-cut lawyer remained in jail today pending his transfer to the state prison at Stillwater to serve the life sentence imposed by Judge Rolf Fossesen. There is no capital punishment in Minnesota.

With good behavior, Thompson would be eligible for parole after 17½ years.

If his attorneys appeal—which they indicated likely—and if the predictably heavy bond is met, Thompson could go free pending a decision by the State Supreme Court. Prosecutor William Randall said he would recommend bond "substantially heavier" than the $100,000 under which Thompson was free during his trial.

The scene in the courtroom when the jury returned topped six weeks of steadily building emotion.

Clerk Frank Archambo took the sealed verdict from the foreman, Sidney C. Becker, 71. After handing it to Judge Fossesen, who read it without expression, Archambo read it aloud.

Thompson would be eligible for parole after 17½ years.

If his attorneys appeal—which they indicated likely—and if the predictably heavy bond is met, Thompson could go free pending a decision by the State Supreme Court. Prosecutor William Randall said he would recommend bond "substantially heavier" than the $100,000 under which Thompson was free during his trial.

The scene in the courtroom when the jury returned topped six weeks of steadily building emotion.

Clerk Frank Archambo took the sealed verdict from the foreman, Sidney C. Becker, 71. After handing it to Judge Fossesen, who read it without expression, Archambo read it aloud.

Vincent Taus Among Victims In Connecticut

All Yale Students; Patrol Believes Driver Fell Asleep

Vincent V. Taus Jr., 21, of MC 1, Salem, and two other Yale University students were killed in a one-car accident this morning on the Connecticut Turnpike at Milford, Conn.

Connecticut state police identified the other two young men as Elton W. Peterson, 21, of Hopkins, Minn., and Gary W. Martin, 20, of Manhasset, N. Y.

All three were seniors and members of Timothy Dwight College, one of Yale's 12 undergraduate residential colleges.

Police said the men were returning from a visit to New York City when the accident occurred. They said the car swerved into the center esplanade of the turnpike and smashed into a bridge abutment.

Authorities believe Martin, who was driving, fell asleep. The nature of the youths' fatal injuries was not ascertained.

The Salem youth was born here Sept. 20, 1942, a son of Vincent V. and Mildred Yeager Taus.

He graduated as an honor student from Salem High School in 1960 and was employed for a period in the editorial office of the Salem News. The victim was majoring in English at Yale.

Besides his father and mother he leaves a brother, David Lee at the home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yeager of Salem.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Stark Memorial.

184 Years of Carrying Mail

That's Collective Record of Salem's Faithful Carriers

One hundred years ago, on July 1, 1863, the first letter carrier in the world started carrying the mail in Cleveland. Since that time many other countries have followed the precedent, and city delivery has become universal.

This year, Salem's 19 letter carriers, along with thousands of others throughout the land, are celebrating the centennial of that important day in the history of the U.S. mail system. A post office was first established in Salem, April 6, 1807, at the corner of E. State St. and Lundy Ave. which is now occupied by the G. C. Murphy Co. Since that time the post office has been moved five times.

SALEM'S 19 CARRIERS have 184 years total experience. W. L. Hively has been on the force longer than any of the others, totting the bag for 40 years.

Other carriers and their years of service are: Lyman Miller, 26; Wilford Stratton, 24; David Briskin, 22; Eugene Miller, 15; John Hrvatin, 15; Harry Beck, 14; Don Schnorrenberg, 4; Don Abrams, 4; Bill Schuller, 3; Ray Bartholow, 3; Tom Jensen, 3; Andy Sapen, 3; Walter Lutsch, 2; Bill Pauline, 2; Robert Wilson, 1; Rich Purrington, 1; Harry Roberts, 1, and George Sulea, 1.

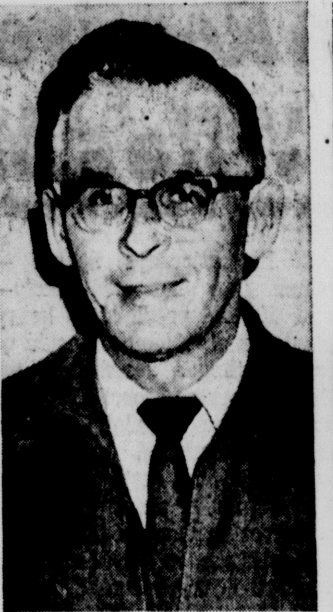

Salem Postmaster Ray Reasbeck is a former letter carrier, which is somewhat of a rarity since appointments to the post are usually politically motivated. To commemorate 100 years service by letter carriers, the Postal Department has issued a special stamp showing a carrier of a past era carrying an umbrella and a mail bag with a boy and a dog running by his side.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Storyteller described how the Fairy Queen expelled Nog from Fairyland. The Bugaboo came to the Kingdom of Poo and moved into a haunted house.

(Chapter Five)

THE HAUNTED HOUSE
According to the Storyteller, Nog's house on Burning Tree Road was a good place to stay away from because all kinds of strange things went on there. Some people swore they'd seen green smoke coming out of the broken-down chimney but when they went to investigate they found no living thing and not even ashes in the fireplace. Eight great black buzzards took to circling over Nog's house. Day and night they were there, never making a sound except for the swish of their wings. Round and round they flew waiting, waiting...

There were lights, too. Purple lights and red ones and green. They flickered off and on, now in one window, now in another — moving so fast a person could hardly be sure he'd seen anything at all.

THE NEAREST HOUSE to Nog's house was almost half a mile away but the folks who lived there got so upset they packed up and moved away. They put their house up for sale and it was still for sale today because nobody wanted to move next to the Haunted

In the middle of the great green cloud was Nog.

House. Now it happened, said the Storyteller, that one day, three little children from Round Hill Road set out to find a Christmas tree. "Round Hill Road?" said Sissy. "That's where WE live!" "Oh?" said the Storyteller. "That's a coincidence all right." And he went on with the story. The three children wanted a to no one because it was growing in a tangled woods behind a broken-down house that everyone knew had been empty a hundred years.

Jeremy pulled out his hatchet and the three children ran towards the tree. But just as they reached the house there came a terrible rumbling and clattering and hullabaloo as if the whole place were falling down. At the same time a great green cloud puffed out of the door and in the middle of the cloud, heading straight for the children, was purple-faced, toothless, bottle-shaped Nog.

pine tree — a long needed white pine — and — "What were their names?" interrupted Sissy. The Storyteller's eyebrows rose. "Whose names?" "Those children — the ones looking for the Christmas tree." The Storyteller thought for a while then he said, "Jeremy. Sissy. And Miss Jo."

Miss Jo clapped her hands. "That's us!" "Not necessarily," said Jeremy. He was trying his best to separate fact and fiction but he was having a hard time of it.

"IS IT US?" demanded Miss Jo of the Storyteller.

"Perhaps," said the Storyteller. "Perhaps not. The names are certainly the same."

"Well," said Sissy, "did that Sissy have curls like me?"

The Storyteller pondered and said, "Yes, I believe she did." "So, go on with the story," burst out Jeremy. "What happened?"

Well, the three children searched down all the roads of Poo, hunting for the just-right Christmas tree. They found lots of pines but every tree had something just a little wrong with it. One was lopsided, another too dumpy, another too skinny. And so on.

Eventually they came to Burning Tree Road. They had never been on this road before and they didn't like it very much because it was lonely and had hardly any houses on it.

The older children wanted to turn back but suddenly Miss Jo, the youngest child, called out, "Look yonder! There's our tree!"

THE OTHERS LOOKED where she pointed and sure enough, there was the tree they'd been searching for. It was fat and sturdy, yet tall enough, and it was even - branched all around. Best of all, it belonged

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

All is not lost with one failure. As any bowler knows, it's worthwhile to achieve a goal on the second try.

The Church was not founded for people who are perfect. It is for men and women who would strive, despite their shortcomings, to meet life's moral and spiritual challenge.

Someone has called Christianity the religion of another chance. Jesus, after all, placed greatest emphasis on God's forgiving love. And He urged men to grasp present opportunities despite past failures.

Earnest Christians today are still discovering in thrilling ways what man, inspired and strengthened by God, can really accomplish.

And some of those whose lives have been enriched with faith and courage once wondered — as perhaps you are wondering — whether to give religion another try.

Ready For Budget Reform

President Johnson scarcely had time to get used to his White House office before the 1964-1965 budget was in his lap.

The late President Kennedy had been working on the new budget for months before his death. The Bureau of the Budget has nothing else to do but work on it year in and year out. More people altogether worry and work on the budget than on any other piece of federal business.

Yet, the effect of all this work and worry is a state of official and public confusion. The federal budget has become incomprehensible. Worse than that, it has become dangerously incomprehensible. Its distortion.

LIKE MANY other kinds of raw sta-

Why Not Just Work?

Millions of workers across the country give an honest day's work for a fair day's pay.

They don't expect to get medals for doing what they are being paid to do. And they don't get any, either.

But to some union members, this apparently is a dull kind of existence. So they find a way to attract attention, and they have found it pays off.

They attract attention by making a nuisance of themselves. They strike, and they strike often. This brings them into public view.

THIS IS HOW the AFL-CIO unions working on missile sites gained attention. After 207 work stoppages—despite no-strike pledges—on federal missile and space projects in one year, they won attention from Washington.

The government set up a missile sites labor commission. In the year after the commission was created, stoppages decreased to 160. In the year ending last June 1, they were reduced to 62.

In recognition of this record and for other contributions to the country's military preparedness, Defense Secretary McNamara has bestowed on the AFL-CIO the Defense Department's coveted Meritorious Award.

IN OTHER WORDS, the workers were rewarded for doing what they were paid to do in the first place, which is to do a little work like all the rest of us.

It's something like throwing a testimonial dinner for a guy who promised not to beat his wife over the head so often.

tistics, budget figures do not reflect population growth, for one thing, nor changing circumstances for another. Thus, it is possible to allege that an administration is wasteful because it is spending more money when, in truth, it may be spending less money in proportion to the total population and problems that have been growing more troublesome than a previous administration. The late President Kennedy had grown sensitive on this point.

Budget figures do not reflect limits, only estimates. Sometimes they don't even reflect whole estimates but only fractions of estimates. For this reason, the federal budget has ceased to be realistic. It is part of the paraphernalia of fiscal ledgerdom that keeps ordinary people from knowing what is being done with public money by extraordinary people who have learned how to assure a more affluent life for public servants.

Neither do the budget totals reveal how much money is shifted around from on account to another and even shifted inside the same accounts. The budget says nothing about unexpended balances in accounts presumably empty. It is not, like a family budget, an estimate of actual spending but only a projection of fund manipulation. There is no way, consequently, for taxpayers to make meaningful comparisons with their own money-handling or the money-handling of companies and corporations.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is about to dive in over his depth in budgetary chaos, with a view to inviting the rest of us to get into the confusion with him next month when he ends his budget message to Congress.

There isn't an American, up to and including the new President, who wouldn't cheer a suggestion to reform budget-making in Washington, for the purpose of restoring popular confidence in the money-huffers whose operations now are on the order of $100 billion a year and still growing.

People duck the commercials on certain items to get a snack of items that aren't advertised.

Bob K. to Stay On

By VICTOR RIESEL
Robert Kennedy will stay on — for "the duration." That means at least until 1965 and perhaps longer.

He has much unfinished business. There is, for example, the matter which was interrupted by gunfire at high noon that Friday.

The attorney general was in the midst of a two-day series of conferences with his special, anti-crime units. He had brought them in from all over the nation. His concentration was on Chicago. He had sent for his entire special staff in that city.

All day Thursday and early Friday he had listened to briefings from the Chicago unit as well as those from Los Angeles, Miami and New York. Everything had to be coordinated for the big push in '64.

On that Friday he decided to take a break for lunch. He asked Robert Morgenthau, U.S. attorney for the Southern District (Manhattan) and Morgenthau's aide, Silvio Mollo, highly trusted veteran chief of that district's criminal division to eat with him on the terrace of his Mc-

Lean, Virginia home.

They were about to impanel a special grand jury on labor racketeering and crime cartel gambling.

THEY WERE on the terrace when J. Edgar Hoover telephoned the report that the train of history had been derailed by two bullets.

But from now on it will be "history" as usual. "The war on the mob will continue—perhaps harder and rougher. A macabre footnote is the shadow of the mob cast on the fringe of the double killing.

Nor is Bob Kennedy going to overlook that other shadow — the red-tinted one.

Regardless of the conclusions of all reports and state and federal inquiries, he will probe this grimness for a long time.

The Communist apparatus inside the United States is part of his unfinished business. It is dramatic coincidence that just two weeks before his brother's assassination, allegedly committed by a self-professed Marxist, Bob Kennedy was in New York for a briefing on Soviet subversion and espionage.

Of the four hours he spent with the FBI specialists there, Kennedy devoted three to such activities as recent Soviet efforts to steal the secrets of our Strategic Air Command's electronic global alert system. The other hour was devoted to the Cosa Nostra.

LET NO ONE doubt that among Bob Kennedy's unfinished business is James Hoffa. Special Department of Justice units are now steadily working on every minute detail of the case they will present against the teamsters' chief in Nashville when the trial opens there on Jan. 6. Hoffa and others are charged with jury tampering.

Then will come the Chicago trial on charges of "fraudulent" obtaining more than $20 million worth of loans from the Central States Teamster Pension Fund. After that, the Justice Department will push the retrial of Hoffa on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley law to the tune of about a million dollars allegedly received from an employer.

Those who check with the White House will learn that President Johnson plans to give Kennedy a free hand in these prosecutions.

What will Bob Kennedy do when he feels finally that he can put some of these dossiers into a file marked "old business"? That depends on his relationship with President Johnson.

In cold political terms, they need each other. Bob Kennedy needs a national platform. Lyndon Johnson needs the network of political machines which Kennedy has been reorganizing and retooling for juggernaut drives in coming months. The two men will, therefore, work closely together.

IT'S EXPECTED that the attorney general will sit in on future "eyeball-to-eyeball" security conferences. His relationships with Central Intelligence Agency director, John McCone, White House military advisor, Maxwell Taylor and Defense Secretary McNamara are personal and intimate.

It was McCone who rushed out to Bob Kennedy's home that Friday. It was McNamara to whom Bob Kennedy sped shortly after hearing the news of his brother's killing.

Naturally during the coming year, or two, Bob Kennedy will search for a power base of his own. He cannot build that in private practice.

He must stay in government. He must run for office. In politics, as in all other contests for high stakes, it's all a matter of timing the big move. He'll take lots of time making his decision.

Alaskan Growth Rate

Herald Tribune News Service

ANCHORAGE, Alaska—A new seaplane, rather than a new car, is the mark of a successful man in Alaska, which was granted American statehood in 1959.

The economic growth rate of this state which has one-sixth of the land area of the United States, but less than half of 1 per cent of its population, has been lagging behind the rest of the country.

It seems now to be recovering from the slowdown that set in shortly after statehood was granted in 1959, and the brilliant promise of the future seems to be nearer fulfillment.

Alaskans, thinly spread along their magnificent Pacific coast and backed out of most of the interior by 15,000-foot snow peaks and glaciers, can take pride in their achievements compared with those of America's other mountain states.

Income Higher

Their average per capita income of some $2,700 a year is $250 above the national average and nearly $500 better than the Rocky Mountain average. Wages as well as prices are far ahead of the national average.

This year's achievements leave no doubt as to Alaska's future as a source of raw materials. The state already is producing more than 1 million tons a year of crude oil from the Kenai Peninsula, one of the few sizeable fields discovered in the United States in recent decades.

The discovery of a nearby field, in the waters of Cook Inlet, now has been confirmed. Large discoveries of natural gas are expected to find a market in Tokyo soon, the product being shipped direct by refrigerated tanker.

Iron Ore Found

As a by-product of the oil exploration activity, one of the world's largest iron ore deposits is believed to have been discovered.

The first auction of a coal lease has been held.

Some of the Timber from the 130 million acres of possibly commercial forest are being sawed and pulped while some standing timber is to be offered for sale to Japanese and other mills.

A more readily available resource, Alaska's scenery, also is being brought on to the market. The state's first public borrowing was used to finance an improved ferry service through the fjords of the southeastern "Panhandle."

This has taken hundreds of miles off the drive from Seattle to the Anchorage - Fairbanks area, and allows the tourist to snooze peacefully for several days while his car sails with him.

Lacks Basic Industry

But in its present stage of development, the Achilles heel of the Alaskan economy is its lack of basic industry or agriculture—and of a working population adjusted to their needs.

Hitherto, government spending based largely on defense has canceled this weakness. Of total wage and salary income, more than half comes from federal military and civilian outlays and state spending. More than a third of this government sector is accounted for by military programs.

The recent trend toward more amicable relations with Soviet bloc countries, however, is causing Alaskans to question the durability of a recovery in which the defense effort still plays a large part.

The dangers of such a situation already had been underlined when, early in 1962, Nikita Khrushchev claimed Russia had perfected a missile that could get to America "the long way round" instead of across the polar regions.

National Conscience By Truman Twill

One loose end keeps dangling while we gather up the threads of our lives after the act of violence in Dallas.

Why do we still feel guilty about a thing we could not help?

Why do people in Dallas feel guilty, and why do so many people elsewhere look askance at Dallas?

If Lee Oswald actually was the presidential assassin, his warped, embittered life was not something we caused. His circumstances were no different from circumstances other Americans have found enduring, even helpful.

What, then, was the source of the stab of guilt that made us wince when we heard what had happened?

IN DALLAS, community leaders are urging the people to lift their chins and quit feeling ashamed.

In places far from Dallas, thoughtful people are writing things like a Wall Street Journal editorial wondering why there has been so much talk about contemporary America as rancor and hatred.

"The harping on hate is a disservice to the nation," says The Wall Street Journal, "for it makes it more difficult for the nonviolent majority to get on with their and the nation's business in a time of sorrow."

Getting on with the nation's business ..

What could be more important than business? Business must go on as usual, of course it must. And it will, if we can get rid of that loose end which keeps dangling.

All we know is, we feared the worst when President Kennedy was assassinated in a city and a state whose fierce hatred of one of his ideas had been only thinly concealed from the rest of the country.

All subsequent talk about guilt is repetition of that first fear. Millions of us thought the bitter rancor of the civil rights fight had spilled over in Dallas.

We still aren't sure it didn't, and with the assassin dead before his story was told we can't be sure.

The spill-over could have happened in Dallas. It did happen in Birmingham. It could have happened many places.

THAT'S THE loose end.

We cannot shift the guilt to one alleged assassin because too many potential assassins are lurking in the bushes.

We can believe the worst might be true because our common sense tells us what the truth might be. We are afraid our country may be starting something like France's shoot-out over Algeria.

The Wall Street Journal and business brushing that loose end out of our eye Call it the national conscience, if it helps to clear up the matter.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Probably no man in the government of the United States is more familiar with the infiltration which the Communists are carrying on in this country than J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. When he makes a speech, therefore, on this activity, it may be inferred that something is going on under the surface to which public attention needs to be drawn.

Mr. Hoover, in an address just delivered in connection with an achievement award given to him by the Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, described the Communist operations inside this country, and said:

"We are at war with communism and the sooner every red-blooded American realizes this the safer we will be. 'Here in the United States, the cause of international communism is represented by the Communist party, U.S.A. — a cunning and defiant subversive conspiracy which is financed, directed and controlled by the Kremlin.

"Its membership consists today of a hard core of revolutionary fanatics who are knowingly and eagerly subservient to the dictates of Moscow. The Dupes, the Dissidents and the faint of heart have long since been purged from the party's ranks."

MR. HOOVER urged Negro leaders in the United States to beware of the attempts by the Communists to infiltrate the movement for civil rights and warned them that the Soviets have tried and still are trying to take a hand behind the scenes in the civil rights movement. He added:

"Today, the Communists are engaged in a vigorous campaign to divide and weaken America from within. Foremost in this campaign are the party's efforts to exploit misunderstandings and capitalize upon areas of dissension and unrest wherever they exist. 'This is especially true in the intense civil rights movement, for America's 20 million Negroes and all others engaged in this struggle are a major target for Communist propaganda and subversion.

"It would be absurd to suggest that the aspirations of Negroes for equality are Communist inspired. This is demonstrably not true. What is demonstrable is that some individuals and groups exploit the tension for purposes not confined to the equality of human rights under the Constitution of the United States.

"The crusade should not become a vehicle for political radicalism or organized violence. 'Devotion to race must not supersede devotion to established institutions.

"It would be useful if responsible Negro leaders themselves could make it clear to all who follow them that their interest is solely in racial equality. . . .

"Legitimate civil rights organizations must remain constantly alert to attempts by the Communists to influence their actions, take over their programs and corrupt their ranks."

MR. HOOVER pointed out that "Communism feeds upon ignorance, prejudice and sickness of the mind and soul," and said that "the cause of communism is well served by the hatemongers, the lunatic fringe and other rabble who preach a doctrine of malice and intolerance toward their fellow man."

He continued: "These venomous fanatics, whether they are extremists of the left or the right, are carriers of a highly infectious disease. They clutter the streets—and the mails—with their slanderous obscenities, urging impressionable teen-agers and unstable adults to acts of hate, terror and intimidation.

They have brought forth the bombs and ignited the flames that have killed decent Americans and even innocent children and destroyed churches and other temples of worship. They are a national disgrace.

"Invariably, these merchants of hate attempt to drape themselves in a cloak of patriotism but their real objective is to profiteer and capitalize upon ignorance, prejudice and bigotry while destroying the very ideals which they claim to uphold."

The FBI director said that "the fires of anti-Semitism continue to burn with fierce intensity in many areas of the world." He declared:

"Despite Communist claims of improved conditions for Jews under the Khrushchev regime, the opposite actually is true. Additional forms of suppression have been introduced."

Mr. Hoover said that the Communists cannot reach the great majority of American youth. But he warned that there are others who, though they are genuinely convinced that they would not fall for the Communist bait, might never know they were "hooked" until they almost unwittingly have become dupes of the Communists.

THE FBI tries to ferret out the Communists who infiltrate organizations of American citizens. While congressional committees can frequently expose Communist operations inside the United States, innocent members of these organizations generally are unaware of just who are or who are not party members and just who are being financed by the Communist partisans.

Mr. Hoover's speech is a significant pronouncement on a subject which has proven vexation in the past and which probably will continue to be until American public opinion is able to learn more about the way Communists conduct their clandestine operations.

Matter of Fact

Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of Saint Lawrence is the smallest province of Canada. It has less than one per cent of the total population and area of Canada. Weather there is variable as the island lies on one of the most heavily traveled storm tracks in the North Atlantic.

The book copyists of medieval monasteries worked only during the daylight hours for fear of fire from artificial light sources. After the scribe had finished a page, his work was proofread against the original by a second person and the sheets were sent on to another who inserted titles, headlines, initials and notes. Still another artist on this assembly line did any necessary illuminations (ornamenting).

I'm looking for something for a man who has everything, including everything 'for the man who has everything.'

Finding the Way Which Do YOU Pursue?

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
The American is guaranteed the pursuit of happiness—but he is not assured the pursuit of pleasure.

Here is a woman desiring happiness with no concept of how to achieve it. So she kidnaps a baby to insure a strange marriage.

Or a man who decides that he must provide a satisfaction for all of his covetous desires and embezzles his employer's funds.

Those are but two of the obvious illustrations of the subtle temptations luring too many persons into appetite satisfaction instead of soul fulfillment.

THIS CAUSED Paul Tillich to remind us that "the ordinary human being is able to sacrifice pleasure and to take pain upon himself for a cause, for somebody or something he loves and deems worthy of pain or sacrifice. He can disregard both pain and pleasure because he is directed not toward his pleasure but toward the thing he loves and with which he wants to unite."

HAPPINESS can stand a large amount of pain and a lack of pleasure. But happiness cannot stand a lack of joy. For joy is the expression of our central fulfillment.

Translating this into the practical problems of contemporary society, the question reads:

Can the fender-to-fender rush through the streets, creating increasing metropolitan problems in the pursuit of pleasure (get out of my way because this is what I want to do) become the pursuit of happiness (transportation is an essential tool of society).

Can the protection of crime or the toleration of immorality as the pursuit of pleasure (either complacency or personal profit), be overcome by the pursuit of happiness (a concern for personal and community righteousness)?

THESE ARE interesting and challenging days demanding that we demonstrate our ability to administer both possessions and power. It is a time for the world and ourselves to know that it is happiness which we pursue—not pleasure.

Joy does not preclude pleasure. But pleasure comes only when man has pursued the larger goals of happiness. So Jesus could do the act of a servant and say:

"For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you . . . if ye know things, happy are ye if ye do them."

This is the pursuit of happiness.

Decorating Goes Red

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
You may be seeing red this year if you follow the current trend in home decorating. Rich reds, vivid orange and vibrant greens will warm hearts and hearthside. Even popular white has taken on warm shades of green, pink and red in room settings created by interior designers for the National Decoration and Design 1964 show in New York.

"Clinical white is out because it didn't do anything for furniture or for skin. But new whites are flattering to the complexion and help old and new furniture," points out designer James Amster, who has used them in his Asiatic arts story in fabrics.

Red can be a softening color, he advises, perfect with the rich dark golds and popular vogue for wood panelling.

"People like red because it is the first color we know anything about from churches and pagentry," Amster says. "It was the color of the 14th, 15th and 18th centuries. Everything goes with it—yellow, green, pink and white. It is a stirring color, hot or cool, depending on what you combine with it. There is a shade for every taste."

Raspberry Most Popular
The popular red seems to be a shade of deep raspberry.

You can't have too much red this show indicates.

One bed-sitting room has walls covered in a rich red-flock paper, creamy white woodwork with gold touches. A red Italian silk loveseat and red and white print fabric is on chairs. Panels at windows have additional red touches.

Joseph Freitag uses red lacquered occasional tables in a Chinese-styled living room. Joseph Braswell and Inman Cook use red as one of 3 low armless chairs upholstered in different shades of Bangkok silk. It and the other colors—blue, beige, brown combine to complement a floor of solid vinyl Repousse tiles that duplicate a medieval pattern. Great vertical white blinds drop from the ceiling produce an elegant, mystical effect.

Orange is shown in larger chunks than last year. Fred Gerstel uses a deep wall-to-wall carpet of it in a room for a career woman, carrying the orange to the walls in a flock paper.

Moldings Back
Erica Lemle combines orange with gold and pinkish red with a floor-to-ceiling multi-colored paper designed by Karl Mann for a family-style room. An off-white leather sofa offers a contemporary look and a tall corner furniture piece is lacquered in a reddish-pink color.

Emily Malino uses "Posters of Picasso" print fabric — orange, red, green, blue and yellow—stretched over sliding panel doors. Bright primary colors also go to the upholstery.

John Elmo puts orange fabric on walls and deep orange upholstery on furniture and window seats in a combination library-dining room.

Mandarin orange is used also by Patricia Harvey in her 18th century French and English room highlighted by architectural moldings on ceiling and walls.

"Moldings are back. Dados are back. You can't have elegant rooms with the plain walls they are putting in homes. One must put back the missing architectural details," she says.

On two facing walls she uses a tone-on-tone moire striped paper within panels created by molding. Left and right of the panels is a wall covering of green flocking.

Green is another popular color in the show. And it too is used in large doses by some interior designers.

Panelled walls are used by many other decorators. Ellen Lehman McCluskey uses it with a pattern of parrots to provide the color in a recessed gray-blue dining room. She also has created an elegant room with black furniture and black and white upholstery in another room.

Meet Our Two Mrs. Johnsons

First Ladies of Today, 1860 Differ

ELIZA MCCORDLE JOHNSON
She was never hostess at the White House.

LADY BIRD JOHNSON
She's a charmer with poise and brains.

By JOY MILLER
AP Womens Editor
History has a habit of repeating itself, but rarely with such attention to detail.

When the President elected in 1860 was felled by an assassin's bullet, the oath of office was hastily administered to a vice president named Johnson — a Southerner with national sympathies, an independent man in his mid-50s with a wife who had devoted herself to promoting his political career.

When the President elected in 1960 was felled by an assassin's bullets, the oath of office . . . the rest is just the same.

But having gone so far, history seems to have lost interest in repetition.

At the point in time when they descended upon the national scene as the country's First Ladies, no two women were ever more unlike than the first and second Mrs. Johnsons.

White House Improved
Eliza McCordle Johnson in 1865 was an invalid, unable to assume the duties of hostess in the White House.

Lady Bird Johnson in 1963 was one of the capital's busiest and most popular hostesses as wife of Vice President Lyndon Baines Johnson. The White House will only give wider range to her talents.

The particulars are different too.

The second Mrs. Johnson, thanks to the efforts of her predecessor, Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her fine arts committee, has at her disposal a White House that is a national showplace.

Andrew Johnson's family, on the other hand, found the White House a sorry place to live in. During the Abraham Lincoln tenure soldiers had tramped over the carpets, guards had slept on the sofas, thousands coming to ask pardons and favors during the hectic time of the Civil War had left the furniture on the first floor dirty and worn.

Congress appropriated $30,000 to refurbish the Executive Mansion and the Johnson's oldest daughter, Martha Patterson, wife of Tennessee's Senator Patterson, who had taken on the duties of White House hostess, went to work.

Claudia Alta Taylor Johnson —that is, Lady Bird—was born nearly 51 years ago in Karnak, Tex., the daughter of a well-to-do landholder. Her mother died when she was 6, and after that she lived the life of a lonely country child with a devoted spinster aunt. By 12 she was poring over tomes on finance and the stock market an uncle gave her.

Her early training in money matters has served her well. By herself she ran an $80,000 inheritance into a fortune in companies, lands, radio-TV stations and investments worth more than a million dollars.

She met Lyndon Johnson in 1934 in a friend's office in Austin. Not wasting a moment, he asked her to breakfast. Within two months they were married, and the shy Texas girl who had refused to be valedictorian of her high school graduating class because she hated to make speeches, was catapulted into a life of politics.

During the 1960 campaign, after she had finished a course in public speaking and had taken to the hustings, the attractive, dimpled brunette told a reporter:

"I accidentally stumbled into something I absolutely love. I clearly preferred getting married, having four children and settling down to domesticity. But I was prepared to do other things."

Studied Journalism
"I got a bachelor of journalism degree (at the University of Texas) because it threw me in with people who were doing the yeasty things of the day. I knew shorthand and typing. I always said, and still do, that if you start out as a secretary you can become indispensable and either marry the boss or become a vice president of the firm."

"I never really went to work, but I knew I could make my own living if I had to. When Lyndon was in service in World War II I worked in his office for eight months. I could get in to see people better and could represent him better at home."

He Learns from All
About her big Texas husband she said:

"I find him very interested and very respectful of taking advice from anyone he admires and sets store by, and I find him impossible to manage by giving him directions. (Because of his heart attack in 1955, she was still trying to get him to watch his diet.)"

"He tries to learn something from anyone he comes across—from me, or from a general explaining ballistic missiles. To that extent I can manage him a little bit, but I can't lay down set rules." From a feminine point of view at least, the introduction she gave her husband at a Democratic Women's dinner in 1960 seems one of the most complimentary a wife can make. She described him as . . . an exciting man to live with; an exhausting man to keep up with; a man who has worn well in the 25 years we've been together."

I hope you out there in "Heloise Land" will give this a try. We certainly had tons of fun not only fixing the packages but watching the expression on the faces of our family when they opened them. Now every one will be doing it this year at our home and I hope they will be at YOURS, too.

YOUR "ZANY" SECRETARY.

DEAR HELOISE: Your nylon net dishrag is used for many things. I use it to wash my dishes.

One day recently I hit upon this idea:

Sew up three sides of a piece of nylon net, making a pocket. On the open side sew two snaps. This makes a great sack for those bits and pieces of soap. When you wash your hands with it the netting is as good as a hand brush! It can also be used in the bathtub.

MRS. HENRY MUGITS.

This nylon net can be bought at any time or department store for less than 40 cents a yard and it comes 72 inches wide. Nine inches of this nylon net will cost approximately 10 cents and it will be 72 inches wide. This will make lots of nylon bags for you.

Ladies, these nylon bags make wonderful Christmas gifts. So start saving all of your slivers of soap now and enclose a few in each bag.

These gifts may be enclosed in an envelope along with your Christmas card or tucked in any package! The weight of the net is practically nil.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell all the girls who save their Christmas cards from year to year (and this is a good habit, just throw them in with the Christmas decorations when packing them away) that when the next Holiday appears they can be used so many ways . . .

Put them all in a pile. If you have pink scissors get them out. If you don't just use regular scissors. Cut off all the pretty pictures. Paste these on the tops of packages after they are wrapped! Saves expensive ribbon.

Besides, those packages you have to mail will not get the expensive bows crushed if these beautiful front covers from Christmas cards are glued on the front. Gifts decorated this way also look lovely when placed under the Christmas tree.

These cards may also be used in place of those expensive NAME TAGS! Just take a card, cut out a little poem or piece of the design and write in To — and From —

More money saved . . .

Never waste a beautiful Christmas card.

DEVOTED

Add a well beaten egg, a couple of tablespoons of melted butter and a little light cream to two cups of seasoned mashed sweet potatoes; bake in a moderate oven until puffed and browned.

Summer In Yellowstone Park Convinces Salem Man He Wants To Be Forest Ranger

By CAROL CROFT
Three months of outdoor adventure as a forest ranger in Yellowstone National Park was what 22-year-old Bob Wilson of 272 W. 10th St. chose for the past summer. And he liked it so well that he's going to continue it.

The whole thing came about when Bob, interested in wild life and nature since his childhood, applied in January for the post of ranger after conceiving the idea six months before.

He had almost given up the idea of being accepted when, on May 29, he received a letter from Wayne Howe, chief ranger at the park, saying that he should report for work June 10.

Bob was assigned to work mainly in the northeast entrance station, located near Silver Gate, Mont. His duties included issuing permits, distributing information on the park and informing tourists of speed limits and park regulations.

Among other duties were patrolling the road in his district for speeding, littering and other infractions, patrolling a highway just outside the park and checking the camp ground.

OCCASIONALLY THE RANGERS were called upon to trap a troublesome bear who would get into a campers tent. They would then take the bear into the woods and release it.

One of the most interesting experiences he recalls is the day he went with a team of elk hunters.

In Yellowstone, officials are trying to reduce the number of elk because it is increasing and presenting a problem. A program called the Elk Reduction Plan is being carried out, whereby a specific number of elk are killed at a certain time to keep the number down. Bob was asked to go on one of these hunting trips and saw the team kill four elk.

Although he did not participate in the actual killing, he did help weigh the animals and assisted in obtaining data on them. The study is done in connection with Montana State University which studies the elk through dissection and other methods and will soon publish a book on its findings.

BOB AND HIS ROOMMATE,

RANGER — Bob Wilson, 22-year-old senior at Kent State University, spent the past summer working as a ranger at Yellowstone Park at Montana. He plans to return next summer. He is majoring in wildlife management.

a pre-law student from Georgia, lived for the three months in a rustic cabin and did their own cooking over a wood fire. For recreation, (the nearest movie was 50 miles away) the young men took pictures, hiked, explored abandoned silver and gold mines nearby and collected rocks.

One thing that he learned, through his summer adventure, was how to get along with people. Over one and one-half million persons visit the park annually, most of them during the warmer months.

The ignorance of most of the tourists amazed Bob. He stated that many of them act as though they are in a different world when driving through the park. Most of them don't seem to realize that the animals are actually wild and try to get too close to them, he said.

Over 100 persons were treated throughout the season for scratches and bites and other similar injuries.

IN GENERAL, HOWEVER, he found most persons rather cooperative in abiding by rules.

Traffic violators proved to be the most troublesome.

A false concept of many strangers to the park is its size. The park, 85 per cent of which is still wilderness, covers 3,472 square miles, over one and one-half million acres of territory in three states — Wyoming, Montana and Idaho.

One foreign group, Bob recalls, came into the park in an automobile and drove around for approximately 10 minutes. When the members of the group returned to the station after such a short period of time, he asked if something were wrong. They informed him that they had planned to drive in and tour the entire park in a few minutes and were, of course, very mistaken.

He feels that many visitors take too little time to appreciate the park, its facilities and beauty.

Besides seeing the West for the first time in his life, Bob also saw several types of wildlife that he had not witnessed before. They included black bear, elk, mule deer, antelope, bison, grizzly bear and a large number of birds, including the trumpeter swan.

Working at the entrance station with him were six other men — his roommate, three teachers and two professional full-time rangers. During the summer, 300 persons are employed at the park but in the winter the number dwindles to 35 full-time rangers.

His advice to tourists planning to visit Yellowstone Park is to do it either in late spring or early autumn because there are fewer bugs and people and more animals.

WILSON, A SENIOR AT Kent State University, will receive his bachelor of science degree in biology and will study next year at the University of Michigan where he plans to receive a professional degree in wildlife management. After that, he is uncertain.

He had originally planned to be a geologist, in fact, majored in geology his first two years at Kent, but decided to go into wildlife management because he felt it offered better job opportunities.

Bob lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Richard Wilson on W.10th St. He also has an older brother, Bruce, who is a Bunn shoe store salesman, and a younger sister, Peggy, a junior at Salem Senior High School.

When he manages to get away from his studies, he enjoys hiking, photography and tennis.

His plans for next summer? To return to Yellowstone. Why? Because he likes it.

Steps to Altar
Couples Must Qualify Legally

The step to the altar has a number of legal requirements which must be met before and after the issuance of the marriage license.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin at the Columbiana County Courthouse in Lisbon lists the eight basic conditions which the laws of Ohio stipulate concerning marriage:

1.—Any male person 18 years of age may marry any female person 16 years of age or over, who are not first cousins or closer related. However, the part, or parties under 21 years of age require the consent of both parents, if living, or of the living parent if only one is living, or guardian of the person. In the event the parents are divorced, that parent who was granted custody of the child, may sign such consent. The only exception to this is if the girl is pregnant; then the juvenile judge may waive the age requirement.

2.—A five-day waiting period is required, but may be waived by the court. It is imperative before plans are made for a wedding that the application be obtained and assurance be had that the five days will be waived.

3.—Each and every applicant must have a blood test not over 30 days old, indicating the parties are free from any venereal disease.

4.—If either party has been divorced at any time, the name of the court and the date of the divorce must be given at the time the application is signed. No person will be granted an application for marriage license whose divorce has been granted to them or their former spouse within 60 days immediately preceding the application for a marriage license.

5.—Parties who apply for a marriage license must not have been drinking any intoxicants, including beer, at the time of the application.

6.—If parents who must sign consent cannot be present in court, the application for their consent may be signed away from the courthouse. However, a witness to their signature stating that they did sign must swear to same, in court.

7.—Persons who received a license and have been married should be sure and check that the person who performed the marriage ceremony has made proper return to this court, that we know the marriage has been performed and that we have a record of same.

8.—An application for marriage license is only valid for 60 days. If no marriage is performed within that 60 days, then it is void and a new application must be applied for.

Sometimes a yeast bread recipe will call for heated buttermilk. Don't worry if the buttermilk separates during the heating process; the separation should not affect the bread that finally results.

Most of all, perhaps, is a difference in background.

$\frac{1}{2}$  pound sugar, 4 tablespoons milk or water, flavoring essence (vanilla, pineapple, raspberry, etc.), 5 drops glycerine.

Put the sugar and milk or water into a small pan and bring to a boil. Let this boil until a drop of the liquid falling from a spoon makes a thread. Remove from the fire. Add a few drops of essence and stir continually (especially round the sides of the pan).

Keep stirring until the mixture has lots of transparency and starts getting more solid. Stir in the glycerine.

Have greased lids of tins ready, about  $\frac{1}{3}$  inch high, pour the mixture into these, and let it become solid. Unmold by putting them 1 second in hot water.

Recipes of Salem Women Have International Flavor

The Salem News took a culinary tour "around the world" this week and found, along with a real international flavor, that these Salem ladies, most of whom are Americans by choice rather than by the fortunate happenstance of birth, were as warm and friendly as their kitchens and as pleasant as the aroma that greeted us at the door.

They graciously agreed to share with our readers favorite recipes of their native lands to help us bring to you a Christmas "goodies" smorgasbord.

Fruit Drops Make A Festive Yule

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Soon my husband and I will be celebrating our golden wedding anniversary. Our children want to give us a grand party, complete with open house and all the trimmings.

Here is the drawback: Our marriage has not been a happy one. It was more like an endurance test for me. As I look back I don't know how I lived through the humiliation of all his sordid affairs.

He left me with three small children when the baby was less than a year old. If my family had not come to my rescue I don't know what I would have done.

Everyone knew the ugly details. When he returned I took him back and never said a word. But I have not loved him since. For the last 20 years I have supported myself because I have not wanted to take any money from him.

I'm no longer bitter, Ann, just indifferent.

Does such a marriage call for a celebration? What do you say?—SMILING ON THE OUTSIDE.

Dear Smiling: If your children wish to honor you and your husband with a party don't deprive them of the pleasure. They obviously do not view your marriage as you do—and it's just as well.

Since you have acted a role for the last several years one more benefit performance won't hurt.

School's Duty?

Dear Ann: I'm an English teacher and a guidance counselor in a junior high school. This is a rather small community—population under 45,000.

In your opinion, how far should the school authorities go in their demand that the 11-12, and 13-year-old girls look their age?

Many of our young students come to school wearing tight skirts and sweaters, eye makeup, and lacquered hairdos.

Friday one girl appeared in false eyelashes. When I called her into my office she said, "This is a free country. My mother knows I fix myself up like this and if it's okay with her I don't think it's any of the school's business."

I phoned the girl's mother and she supported her daughter. Her attitude was, "She has to get it out of her system."

What should the school's position be—FRUSTRATED.

Dear Frustrated: When 11-, 12- and 13-year-olds come to school looking like chorus girls they should be told to go home and wash their faces and comb their hair—and not to come back until they look their age.

A school whose standards are set by the kookiest mother in town isn't worth much.

Shattered Romance

Dear Ann: I'm 24 years old and I've loved Judy ever since she was a freckled-face kid in knee socks. She and I grew up on the same block and there was never anyone else for me.

When I went into the service Judy promised to wait for me. I wasn't gone more than six months when I received a letter from my mother telling me Judy had run off and married a fellow nobody ever thought was much good.

Eight months later when I got home Judy's marriage already was on the rocks. The guy she married had got himself into serious trouble with the law. He skipped town in the middle of the night, owing everybody.

Judy wants to marry me now but I can't get over thinking of her as somebody else's wife. My folks say I should have nothing to do with her. She swears she'll be true. What do you think?—REX.

Dear Rex: If you are comfortable dating this girl—assuming, of course, that she no longer is married—then continue to do so. But unless you are capable of complete marriage. The shadows of the past are sure to become life-size monsters unless they are destroyed.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ceremonies Are Held at Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Informal ceremonies were to be held today on the gleaming white memorial which marks the battleship Arizona—sunk at its Pearl Harbor berth Dec. 7, 1941.

Although no official Navy ceremonies were planned, the Navy here customarily salutes the country's war dead each Memorial Day.

Hundreds of persons usually ride out to the memorial. Wreaths are placed on the monument, and flower garlands tossed on the quiet harbor waters in tribute to the memory of the 2,300 soldiers, sailors, Marines and civilians who died 22 years ago today.

For the first time since the end of World War II, the flag which flies above the Arizona is at halfmast. It salutes the memory of another dead U.S. Navy veteran who served as a lieutenant in the Pacific campaign, John F. Kennedy.

The Arizona, which on a clear day can clearly be seen beneath the blue, tranquil waters of Pearl Harbor, is the symbol of the 1941 attack which plunged the United States into war with Japan.

Damascus Ruritan Officers Installed

employed (ADCU) bill, which didn't seem to have the necessary support, passed by a surprising 26-6 margin. Thus, with the legislature's blessing, Ohio becomes the 18th state to participate in this federal program — until mid-1965.

Republicans, who have just the bare minimum 20 votes needed to pass a bill in the senate, got help from the Democrat minority on the ADCU measure as well as two other bills which completed their legislative trip Friday.

The others are to construct, in cooperation with Metropolitan Housing Authorities, "Golden Age" housing near state hospitals for qualified patients of Ohio's mental institutions (passed 23-7), and to use up to 20 per cent of Ohio's approximately $44 million yearly liquor monopoly profits for research centers and other facilities (24-8).

Senators agreed without opposition (as they did to the $157.4 million appropriations bill) to require public utilities to pay their full property tax even if they are seeking redetermination of the valuation. The vote was 30-0. There would be a rebate if the tax liability is lowered, but the argument is that schools suffer if the tax is held back.

Former Salem Man Gets Prison Term

A former Salem man was sentenced Friday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp when he changed his plea to guilty of forgery and asked for immediate sentencing.

Kenneth Kinser, 32, was given 1-20 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to forging a $250 check stolen from the Kannal Coal Company, near Lisbon.

Kinser, indicted by the January Grand Jury, fled to Florida where he was picked up for forgery there and returned.

LBJ Sees Staff Aides, Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was free of announced appointments today — but he wasn't free of work.

Johnson planned to spend much of the day in his White House office, seeing staff aides and other advisers, cleaning up correspondence and making the phone calls which he favors as a means of getting things done.

Personal effects of the Johnson family were being moved into the executive mansion. However, it was understood the Johnsons would not move into the White House immediately — probably not before Monday.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, moved from the White House Friday to the Georgetown home they have borrowed from Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman.

Johnson did not return to his own home in the Spring Valley section until after 8 p.m. A full day of official business at the White House was followed by a relaxing half-hour in the heated swimming pool close by the oval presidential office. Johnson has been swimming almost every evening at the end of the workday.

Earlier, Johnson made two surprise announcements at a White House ceremony honoring 31 distinguished men and women who had been awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom by the late President Kennedy.

Johnson climaxed the affair by revealing that he was conferring freedom medals posthumously on Kennedy, who was slain Nov. 22, and on Pope John XXIII, who died last June.

Saturday morning the President will fly to New York to attend funeral services for Herbert H. Lehman, former Democratic governor and senator from the Empire State. Johnson planned to return to Washington immediately after the service.

Kennedy had selected Lehman as a winner of the Medal of Freedom, but the veteran political leader died Thursday as he was preparing to leave New York for Washington for the presentation ceremony.

Suggested sites were the Village Green, Memorial Park, Kelley's Park, Centennial Park, City Hall and the Memorial Building. A unanimous vote selected the Village Green as the place the memorial will be placed, subject to approval by the Park Commission.

A goal of $6,000 for the memorial was chosen and contributions may be sent to Morris Hollinger at the Farmers National Bank. Checks should be made payable to the World War II and Korea War Memorial Fund. A total of $300 was contributed by the Amvet Auxiliary.

County Designated For Drought Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighteen Ohio counties have been made eligible for application by farmers for purchase of government-owned feed grains at reduced prices because of drought conditions.

The Agriculture Department designated the counties eligible for this assistance to supplement their feed supplies for livestock.

Counties named are Ashtabula, Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Gallia, Geauga, Harborside, Noble, Portage, Scioto, Stalk, Summit, Trumbull, Tuscarawas.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

LISBON — Gene Richard Johnson, 29, of MC 22, East Liverpool, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail Friday by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp for contempt of court.

Johnson was sentenced after it was found he was in arrears $3,594.75 for support of his minor child. Seven days of the sentence was suspended on condition he pay support of $25 per week, plus extra on the arrearage.

OKAY WORK PACT

CLEVELAND (AP) — Production is expected to return to normal Monday at the Russell Gasket Co., which had been idled since Nov. 18 by a strike. Members of Industrial and Allied Employees Local 73 of the Teamsters Union began returning to work Friday after agreement was reached on a three-year contract providing 10-cent hourly pay raises each year for some 30 employees.

Mrs. Kennedy, Children Settle Into New Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three-year-old John F. Kennedy Jr. carried an American flag on a stick into his new Georgetown home.

He stood with his mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, in a second-floor bedroom window and waved to neighbors and passers-by gathered across the street.

Thus the Kennedys left the White House Friday and began a new life back on N Street — the street they left to enter the executive mansion — in a residence turned over to them by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman.

Late Friday night Secret Service men prowled about the three-story brick house keeping watch.

After the sorrow of the two weeks since President Kennedy was assassinated, Mrs. Kennedy and the children, John and 6-year-old Caroline seemed caught up in the excitement of moving.

The family brought with them from the White House familiar and personal items like Caroline's two-wheeled bicycle and a big box marked "John Jr. Toys."

Neighbors watching in the street got a look at Mrs. Kennedy's fur coats and the pink-covered cages of the Kennedy children's pet parakeets.

There was a sad reminder — a bulging briefcase with the initials "JFK."

As they settled into the 11-room, five-bath residence, Mrs. Kennedy sent word through her press secretary that she was very grateful to the Harrimans for loan of their house, filled with art treasures.

The former First Lady "now looks forward to many quiet days there," the secretary, Miss Pamela Turnure, added.

The Kennedys had lived in a narrow red brick home at 3307 N Street before they moved into the White House.

Bloodmobile Gets 93 Pints Here

Salem area citizens donated 93 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile was stationed at the Elks Home Friday. This was 32 under the 125-pint quota and North Columbiana County Red Cross Blood Program Chairman Louis Raymond termed it the "poorest showing since June of 1960."

Recent visits of the Bloodmobile to Lisbon and Columbiana missed the 125-pint mark but only by a few, he said.

The north county group ranked sixth out of 23 Red Cross chapters in the Cleveland region last year, Raymond said, but "we need a new interest among new donors or the program will falter." The donations help to keep the "blood banks" full in local hospitals.

He blamed yesterday's failure to meet the goal on 38 persons who made appointments but failed to show up at the Elks Home to give. The appearance of 32 "walk-ins" saved the day, Raymond added.

The Bloodmobile will return here Feb. 3.

JFK

proved the Russell-Cooper draft Friday.

The measure provides that no one subpoenaed shall be excused from testifying or producing evidence on 5th-Amendment grounds—that to do so might tend to incriminate him.

The commission's subpoenas would be enforceable by federal court orders, and failure to comply would be punishable as contempt.

Warren told newsmen Friday that the commission still has not received the FBI's exhaustive investigation report. It has been completed and reportedly indicates that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting on his own, killed Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, and that Oswald was slain by night club owner Jack Ruby — who, the FBI believes, also acted on his own.

New Angle Studied

The FBI is still investigating, and a new angle broke into print Friday. This was the disclosure that Marina Oswald, the Russian-born wife of the accused ex-Marine, has told investigators her husband boasted of firing at Gen. Edwin A. Walker on April 10.

Walker, an ardent champion of right-wing causes, was the target of a rifle shot fired through a window of his home in Dallas by an unseen sniper. The bullet narrowly missed and Walker was cut by flying glass.

Reports of evidence linking Oswald to the incident were published by the Chicago Sun-Times and the Washington Evening Star.

The FBI declined comment. Meanwhile, the Dallas Morning News said officers are convinced that Oswald fired the rifle shot that barely missed Walker. The News said an entry in a small notebook and the statement by Oswald's widow were the convincing factors.

Found Notebook In Room

The story said investigators found a notebook, in which Oswald had scribbled Walker's name and phone number, in Oswald's room after his arrest in the Kennedy shooting.

The News also said that officers were planning to question Oswald about the Walker incident on Nov. 23—the day before he was shot and killed.

The News said investigators were unable to determine if the slug fired into Walker's home came from the same gun that fired the fatal shots at Kennedy.

In nearby Irving, Tex., Mrs. Ruth Paine, in whose home Mrs. Oswald lived until the day of the assassination, said that the FBI knew some time after Oct. 16 that Oswald worked in the Texas School Book Depository Building, from which Kennedy was assassinated.

Mrs. Paine told The Associated Press that she interpreted for Mrs. Oswald on two occasions when FBI agents came to warn her about possible blackmail attempts on her relatives behind the Iron Curtain.

During the course of the conversation, Mrs. Paine said, she told the agents that Oswald had rented a room in Dallas and worked in the book depository. "They did not seem particularly interested in Lee," she said. "They seemed to want to help Marina if any of her family was threatened after she came to this country."

The two are being sought. The killers worked as a team in at least one of four Youngstown shootings and bombings that resulted in a total of six murders.

Limited To Three Years

The slayings were limited to roughly the last three years. Gangland killings in Youngstown in that period were these:

July 1, 1962 — William Naples, bombed in car.

July 17, 1962 — Vincent DeNiro, bombed in car.

Nov. 23, 1962 — Charles Cavallero and young son, bombed in car.

A GREAT DEAL IS BEING SAID...

10% OF TELEPHONE BILL DOLLAR IS FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

We hear much being proposed for reducing Federal Taxes. Those who favor such a procedure believe that a reduction in these taxes will stimulate the economy because the taxpayer will have more money to use for purchasing goods and services that are provided by American Industry. Then the added use of these goods and services will require more people to produce them, thus stimulating employment.

Well, perhaps all this is a sound economic theory. But it certainly is no new theory, for we in the telephone industry have been advocating such a plan ever since the close of World War II—and that was 17 years ago. It was way back in the early days of that war that our Federal Government enacted a number of special excise taxes. The purpose of these taxes was twofold. First, to restrain the use of certain items that were not in as full supply as they would otherwise be required to be. Telephone service, of course, was in this category then. The second reason for these taxes was to raise Federal Tax Revenue.

Now, the war is long past. Dozens of other items on which these Excise Taxes were levied have been removed from this tax burden—but not Telephone Service. The Federal Government still collects everytime you spend your money for telephone service. All telephone bills are subject to a 10% Federal Excise Tax—and it all goes to Uncle Sam. We get not one cent for collecting it from you. Why not write to your Congressman and Senators and ask them to repeal this unjust tax?

Duke Edges Ohio State 76-75 In Cage Tournament

West Virginia Triumphs 79-72

Pitt, Duquesne Post Wins; NYU Romps

By BOB GREEN

One of the Top Ten has been beaten, another will fall tonight and still there hasn't been a full-blown upset at the end of college basketball's first full week of the season.

Ohio State, ranked seventh in the pre-season poll, became the first of the ranked teams to fall when the Buckeyes bowed in the opening round of the Centennial tourney in Morgantown, W.Va., Friday night.

But it was powerful Duke, ranked No. 4, that did the deed, 76-75, so it hardly qualifies as an upset.

Another of the rated teams must be beaten tonight at Tempe, Ariz., but that, too, will fail to qualify as an upset. The game matches Arizona State, No. 6, against visiting Wichita, No. 5.

Duke's Jeff Mullins shot the Blue Devils into a nine-point lead in the first half against Ohio State, but the Buckeyes surged back time after time.

Ohio State hit 30 of 51 shots from the field, but the potential winner wasn't among them. Trailing by one with nine seconds to go, the Buckeyes' Dick Ricketts missed a short jump shot from the right side.

West Virginia overcame St. John's of New York 79-72 in the other first round match and will play Duke in the final Saturday night.

Pitt and Duquesne made it into the final of another tourney, the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh. Pitt whipped George Washington 89-68 and Duquesne romped over Westminster, Pa., 75-55.

In New York, second-ranked New York University highlighted the first collegiate double-header of the season at Madison Square Garden with a 99-76 frolic past a good Tulsa team.

Princeton's Bill Bradley put one of the more impressive individual performances. The junior marksman tied his own school record of 40 points, half the Tiger total in an 80-73 victory over Army.

Old pro Bob Cousy made his debut as a college coach, and his Boston College team lost to Little Fairfield, Conn., 69-63.

In some of the other major games, Columbia rolled over Colgate 88-72, Creighton beat LaSalle 77-62, Michigan bombed Nebraska 80-55, Rice edged Tennessee 61-55, Southern California beat Butler 74-62 and Colorado whipped Arizona 75-60.

Canton South Rips Louisville 60-36

The Louisville High School Leopards went down to defeat at the hands of host Canton South, 60-36, Friday night.

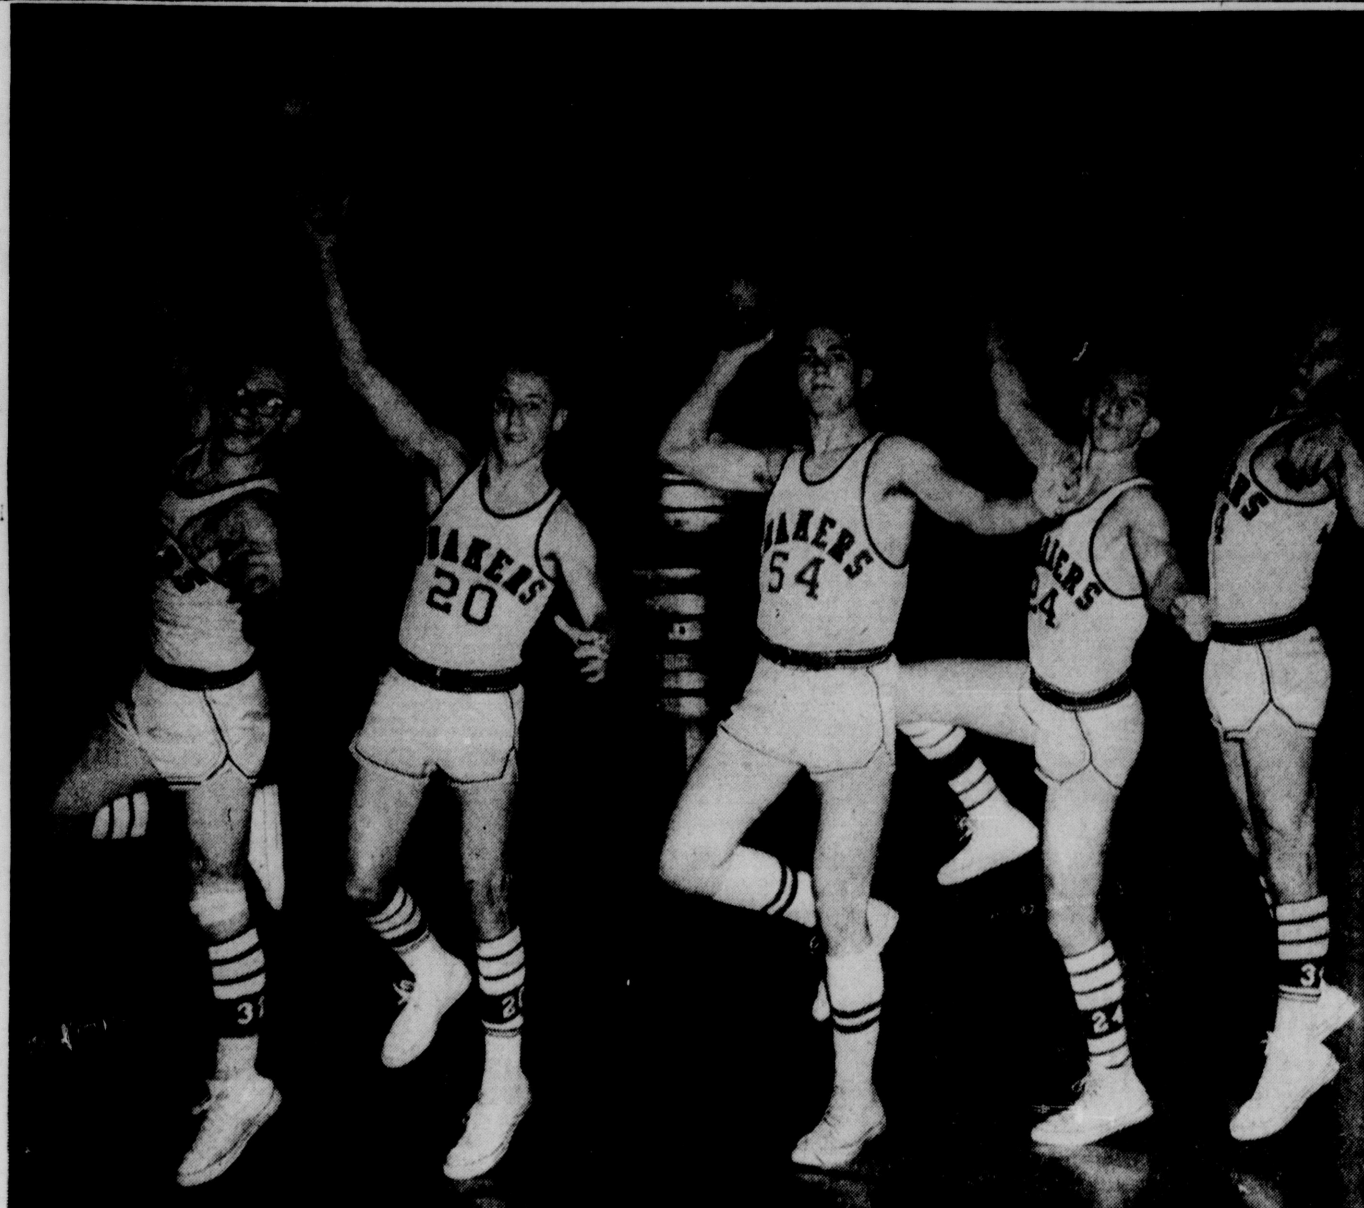

Dick Cunningham led the charge for the victors with 17 markers. Bob Gladieux with 13 points was the only Louisville player to hit double figures.

South took a 15-3 first quarter lead and was never headed. Coach Mike Riley's Leopards, now 2-1, will entertain a Leetonia quintet Friday.

In the preliminary contest, Louisville's reserves licked South, 43-29.

Modell Plans More Talks With Warfield

Schafrath Works Out With Browns, Will Play Against Detroit Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tackle Dick Schafrath, who had been considered a doubtful starter for the Cleveland Browns, game with the Detroit Lions Sunday, apparently is ready to play.

Schafrath suffered a slight concussion in the St. Louis game and took it easy most of the week. Friday he was back at his left tackle spot as the squad worked out at Cleveland Stadium.

The practice session was moved to the stadium because the ground at the usual practice site, League Park, was too muddy and slippery.

Jim Brown lost his footing in the mud Thursday and crashed to the ground. There was complete silence on the field until the Brown's bruising fullback got slowly to his feet and said he was okay.

While the Browns prepared for the encounter with their Western Division nemesis—Detroit has beaten the Browns four straight in regular season contests and has won three of four championship matches — club president Art Modell is in a battle with the Buffalo Bills over Paul Warfield, Ohio State halfback.

Warfield was the Browns' first draft choice and was a draft selection of the Bills in the American Football League. Both Modell and Dick Gallagher, general manager of the Bills, have been talking to Warfield, and Modell planned to see him and his parents today in Warren.

Two years ago Modell and Gallagher had a similar contest. Browns outbid Buffalo to land the outstanding Syracuse halfback.

With Warfield, Modell has been emphasizing that cold cash should not be the only consideration. Modell argues that it is important to play in an area where you are known and has talked about possibilities of off-season employment and about the National Football League player pension. The AFL has no such plan.

Gallagher can stress the fact that in the AFL Warfield has a better chance to start playing regularly in his first year.

Warfield is expected to make his decision early next week.

United Nips Minerva 60-58 In Overtime

It took three overtimes but the United High Golden Eagles, coached by Jack Mills, finally came out on top, 60-58, in a rugged contest at Minerva Friday night.

Senior forward Ken Votaw scored the deciding points on foul shots with just seconds remaining in the contest. Votaw was also high point man in the game with 21, followed closely by teammate Homer Sturgeon with 19.

Dan Baxter had 15 markers for the hosts. Denny Clapper and Dave Simms garnered 14 each.

Minerva hit for 33 per cent on field goals compared to United's 33 per cent, and 50 per cent of foul shots while the Eagles hit the net for 67 per cent at the foul line.

United will seek its second victory of the campaign when it plays host to Sebring tonight. Coach Don Lawthers charges, now 1-1, will attempt to get back on the winning track when they entertain East Palestine Friday.

In the reserve contest, Minerva whipped United, 64-40.

Packers Battle Rams Today; Rest of Loop Plays Sunday

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Green Bay's offensive machine was fully assembled for the first time in several weeks and ready to roll against the Los Angeles Rams in their important National Football League game Saturday.

The Packers, one-half game behind the Chicago Bears in the Western Division race, were solid favorites to defeat the Rams and keep their title hopes alive.

The contest, a prelude to a big Sunday schedule in the NFL, was expected to attract upward of 60,000 and a CBS national television audience.

The Sunday bill includes the Bears at home against the San Francisco 49ers, and in the Eastern Division the co-leading New York Giants against Cleveland Browns, the Washington Redskins at New York and Cleveland at Detroit.

In other NFL games, the Philadelphia Eagles are at St. Louis, Pittsburgh is at Dallas and Minnesota invades Baltimore.

New York has won 11 straight from the Redskins and figures to make it an even dozen and a season record of 10-3-0.

Cleveland faces a jinx at Detroit. In nine regular and post-season games, the Browns have won but once, in the 1954 championship game. The Lions pinned a 13-13 tie on Green Bay in the last game.

The St. Louis Cardinals, 9-4-0, could swing back into a tie at the top with a victory over Philadelphia.

Chicago, 9-1-2, cannot afford to take any chances with San Francisco, whose major contribution of the season was a startling upset over the Bears Oct. 20.

Green Bay, twice beaten by Chicago and 9-2-1, were back at full strength with a backfield that walloped Los Angeles 42-10 at Green Bay Oct. 6.

Middleweights Meeting For 3rd Time

Tiger to Defend Boxing Title In Bout With Joey Giardello

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Middleweight champion Dick Tiger, a better fighter at 34 than he was four years ago, faces the hungry but punch-worn Joey Giardello in a 15-round championship contest tonight.

"I will win," said the champion from Nigeria. "I will not say that I will knock him out. But I will win."

"This is my last chance at that title and I've got to win it now or never," said the 33-year-old, top-ranking contender from Philadelphia. "I will win it."

The 3-1 odds favor the strong, stocky Nigerian to repel the challenge of the American in the non-television fight at spacious Convention Hall. Starting time is 10 p.m. EST.

Unbeaten in his last 10 bouts over a three-year span, the proud champion will be making the third defense of the 160-pound division crown he won from brawling Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, Oct. 23, 1962.

In two defenses this year against the man he dethroned, Tiger drew in 15 rounds Feb. 13 in Las Vegas and won on a technical knockout in seven rounds in Nigeria Aug. 10.

So this is the first time Tiger will be meeting anyone but Fullmer in a world title fight. Oddly, the only previous shot Giardello had at the crown was against the same Fullmer on April 20, 1960 in Bozeman, Mont. They battled to a draw in a bloody, bruising brawl.

Giardello got that chance on the strength of a 10-round decision over Tiger in their second fight in 1959. Tiger had edged Giardello a little more than a month before.

So why should Tiger be such a solid favorite?

"Dick has improved tremendously since he started getting a few breaks," explained his manager, Jersey Jones. "He has become a better fighter in every way."

In 63 fights since 1952, Tiger never has been even dropped in compiling a 48-12-3 record, including 22 knockouts. Giardello, a pro since 1948, has been stopped three times. His record is 93-22-7, including 32 knockouts.

Staubach Says Army Won't Stop Navy's Football Team

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"No psychology and no Army football team is going to stop us."

This was the solemn promise of Navy's celebrated Roger Staubach, the man on the spot today in the 64th game between the two service academies at Philadelphia Stadium.

Perhaps no player in modern times has gone into a game under greater pressure than this 6-foot-2, 190-pound quarterback from Cincinnati, who has received every major citation as the top college player of the year.

The eyes of 102,000 spectators in the stadium and millions of others watching on television screens will be glued on the slender, talented field general of the Annapolis team. He is the target of every Army man wearing a helmet.

The game, with a 1:15 p.m. EST kickoff, is to be televised nationally (CBS-TV).

It's generally conceded by Army and Navy alike—as well as outside observers—that as Staubach goes, so goes the game.

If Army, with its strong interior line and aggressive pursuers, can bottle up the flashy Navy quarterback, then the Ca-detts have a chance of ending Navy's galling four-game winning streak.

If Staubach is permitted to cut loose, as he has in most games this year in which Navy has won eight and lost only one, Coach Wayne Hardin stands to score his fifth in a row over his bitter rivals from West Point—a record for a Navy coach.

"We have a great deal of respect for Staubach—he's a wonderful back," says Paul Dietzel of Army, "but we don't think any team is invincible. We think we can win."

Navy is favored by 11 points to win this final game and sew up a bid to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas where its opponent would be top-ranked, unbeaten and undefeated Texas. Cotton Bowl representatives are on hand en masse. The Pentagon is expected to give its okay to a Jan. 1 appearance by Navy-if the Mid-dies win.

With Staubach at quarterback a master of the peelfoot pass and run, and such speedsters as Pat Donnelly, Johnny Sai and Kit Paskewich to keep defenses honest, the Middies have average-

Columbiana Romps 77-53 Over Tigers

The Columbiana High School Clippers took a 19-14 lead in the first quarter and went on to defeat a visiting Springfield Local crew, 77-53, Friday night.

Phil Burbick and Rick Perrin, with 23 points apiece, shared scoring honors in the first game for the Clippers. Jim Ward added 16 markers for the hosts.

Dale Bloomingdale of Springfield was high point man for the game with 31, including 14 field goals.

Columbiana will play host to North Lima tonight.

The Clippers' reserves put down North Lima, 47-39.

Johnson Eyes Another Shot At Pastrano

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"I'd like to sneak up on Pastrano." That was former light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson's way of saying today he wants another shot at Willie Pastrano, who dethroned him in a hotly disputed decision last June 1.

Johnson used Henry Hank of Detroit as a stepping stone toward his goal Friday night, winning an unanimous 10-round decision in their nationally televised fight.

The 39-year-old Johnson, a master boxer, was the superior throughout, winning seven of the rounds and drawing two others. It was his first bout since he lost the title.

On the basis of a five-point per round must basis, referee Pete Tomasco scored it 49-42; Judge Dave Beloff 50-41; and Judge Jim Weston 49-44. The Associated Press had Johnson ahead 49-43.

There were no knockdowns. Johnson, who was a 2-1 favorite, weighed 176, and Hank 172.

Commission Plans Race Dates Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission plans to consider applications for 1964 horse racing dates from at least 17 tracks and organizations at a meeting scheduled here next Wednesday.

If it approves the dates for which applications have been submitted, the racing season would open April 1 at Ascot Park near Akron and close Nov. 14 at Toledo Raceway.

One new association has applied for a license to hold running races. The group, Buckeye Raceway, Inc., asks for 25 days in a split meet at Beulah Park in Columbus. It lists Ivan Hill of Mount Sterling as president.

Other applicants for thoroughbred racing include Toledo-Mauve Raceway; Cincinnati Turf Club and River Downs, Cincinnati; Beulah Park, Columbus; and Cranwood, Randall Park and Thistlewood, Cleveland.

Harness racing dates are being sought by groups representing Hamilton, Lebanon, Painesville and Toledo raceways; Mid-America Racing Association and Scioto Downs, Columbus; and Northfield Park and Grandview (at Northfield), between Akron and Cleveland.

Night harness racing would get under way May 1 at both end Oct. 5 at Northfield if the nd Oct. 5 at Northfield if the applications are approved.

Last year a total of 352 days of running races and a total of 350 nights of harness racing was granted by the commission.

Wildlife Notes

According to the latest figures, about one-tenth of the population of the United States takes to the fields each year for hunting.

In 1962, there were 13,754,363 licensed shooters in the 50 states, according to the Department of the Interior. It has been estimated that one in five who actually hunt are unlicensed. This includes veterans and others who are granted free hunting privileges in some states. This could bring the actual number of hunters to more than 16 million.

The Wildlife Management Institute says that in 1962 these hunters harvested 1,859,469 deer, including 954,766 whitetails, 749,894 mule deer and 154,809 black-tailed.

Texas had the highest yield with 200,500 deer. Colorado was second with 142,798 and Oregon third with 139,712.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

When we were on our trip out to Iowa, somewhere in western Illinois, I believe it was, we got a little thrill. I had been sleeping and Galen was driving. I felt the truck swerve. I looked up just in time to see a white face steer right in the middle of the road. We missed him thanks to Galen's good driving.

I saw thousands of beautiful beef cattle in Illinois and Iowa. Perhaps some of them will find their way into our meat cases here at the Country Store.

I noticed a lot of the girls who were working in the restaurants were rather heavy. I guess they didn't feed all the corn to the cattle out there.

Whereabouts of Oswald's Widow Still Kept Secret

DALLAS (AP) — Somewhere in the Dallas area, the young Russian-born widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's accused assassin, cares for her two young children.

But it's safe to assume her life is anything but normal, especially since the chain of events that began Nov. 22 with the murder of the President and death of her husband 48 hours later.

Since her pro-Marxist husband died in a quick blaze of gunfire in front of television cameras, Secret Service agents have kept her whereabouts secret.

But Friday word got to the public that Marina, who speaks only broken English, "wants to be an American and continue to live here."

Mrs. Leona Williamson, 25, a Fort Worth housewife who started a drive for funds to Marina and the children, said so far some $7,700 had been received.

The money was turned over to the Secret Service which took it to Mrs. Oswald.

The agents were quoted by Mrs. Williamson as saying:

"She (Mrs. Oswald) just broke down and cried. She said, in broken English, 'I didn't believe the people in America, the people anywhere, could be this nice.'"

"A very nice, highly intelligent woman who is real enthusiastic to learn the ways of America—she wants to be an American and continue to live here." This was the way Mrs. Williamson said the agents described Mrs. Oswald.

The full story of what investigators have learned of the assassination has yet to be made public. All FBI evidence is now in the hands of the Justice Department and will soon go to the White House.

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner

Carr changed his plans about calling a state court of inquiry into the assassination, at least for the present.

In another development, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, Lee's mother, again jumped to the defense of her son. She maintained he had nothing to do with the shooting.

"I don't know exactly what happened," she told a Fort Worth news conference, "but it is possible that while he was in the Teas School Book Depository he may have panicked because he was a known defector."

"He might have run out of the building because he was afraid he might be the first one suspected of having anything to do with it."

Then, she said, "it was only logical for him to get a gun and protect himself."

Authorities have said Oswald fled the depository building, went to his one-room apartment, changed clothes and armed himself with a pistol.

They said he later was stopped by Police Officer J. D. Tippit who was shot and killed with the pistol.

The mother called the press conference, she said, to clear up some "discrepancies" about her son.

Knox Township Precinct To Vote On School Levy

It will be an historic event—in a small way—when voters in part of the northwest precinct of Knox Township go to the polls Tuesday in a special election to help decide the fate of a 3½-mill operating levy in the Alliance city school district.

It represents the smallest segment of Columbiana County ever to vote in a special or regular election, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board. The tiny segment is a part of the Alliance city school district, which overlaps into Columbiana County from Stark County.

About 26 votes were cast in the northwest precinct in the vote Nov. 5 when the levy was rejected. The board of education then enacted a resolution asking the special election.

The polling place in Mile Branch Grange hall will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. O'Hanlon said the election board expects to have the election results by 7:30 and certify them to the Stark County board. A four-member precinct staff will be used instead of the usual six.
